INSCRIPTION

TO THE AUTHOR.

To him, whose loving labor has been spent
With earnest thought, and kindest intent,
Amid the distant shades of long ago,
And so has sought thro' tales of weal and woe
To trace the progress of the Browning clan—
How it has prospered; whence it first began—
Of savage tribes upon rude Briton's shore,
Of German Brunyngs too, full many a score;
Then of the changes many ages wrought,
Of warriors bold who ever bravely fought,
Of sturdy farmers, near to Nature's heart,
Of skilful doctors, learned in healing art,
Of lawyers, merchants, statesmen, artists, too,
And of our honored English poet true.
We, younger Brownings, conscious that his task
Was greater than we e'er had dared to ask,
Now render thanks—This work a gift shall be
Of hope and love to all posterity.

—LAURA C. BROWNING, B. S.

INTRODUCTION.

In this age of enlightenment and civilization, no one is without love for his parents, brothers and sisters, or without regard for his near relatives and kinsfolk; and very few are without esteem and reverence for their ancestors, no matter how distant their connection. Among some nations, as for instance the Chinese, this feeling amounts to ancestral worship.

It is this respect and interest which has led me to write the genealogy of my own family and of all the Brownings who have come to America, so far as I have been able to ascertain their history.

I have also included the genealogy of one of the greatest, if not the greatest of English poets, Robert Browning, who has a world-wide reputation for his learning and poetic genius.

I desire to acknowledge my obligations and to return my thanks to many relatives and friends who have so kindly assisted me with much information. Especially am I indebted to my much esteemed aunt, Mrs. Susan Slocum, who has given me so many facts that they may be said to form the basis of this volume. She was a woman of excellent memory, which she retained to the very end of a long and useful life. I am also much indebted to Mr. Amos A. Browning of Norwich, Conn., who, after spending many years in writing up the genealogy of the northern branch of the Browning family, turned it all over to me to aid my researches; also, to Mr. James Allen Browning of Salt Lake City, Utah, for his researches and investigation of the Southern branch of the Brownings, who originally came from England to Virginia.

I desire to apologize for any errors or mistakes into which I may have been led. I have often found it very difficult to get reliable information, and in some cases even the near relatives themselves could not agree. I have tried to be unbiased, and where I have not given an honorable mention as I should have done, it has been because I lacked the knowledge and not from any neglect on my part.

I may seem in some cases to have said a good deal, and in others very little or nothing at all; but do not charge me with egotism where I have said much about near relatives, because in those cases, I have known their whole lives and have had abundant store to draw upon, and could have said much more. I hope that what I have said, however, may be of general interest, and my regret is that I could not say more of the many who are so worthy, but unfortunately unknown to me.

The completion of this work has been delayed for years on account of an affliction to my eyes, which caused me to give it up entirely for some time. Since then my sight has entirely gone, but my general health has improved so that I am able to finish the work with the aid of a secretary.

It appears that a large majority of the Brownings in America were given to the occupation of farming. Many were Quakers or members of other Christian bodies who held strong religious convictions. I hope that my readers will be encouraged to imitate their ancestors, by patience in toil and perseverance in honest industry, with a heart pure and zealous towards God.

To all who bear the name of Browning, I take pleasure in dedicating this volume.

EDWARD FRANKLIN BROWNING, A. M.

NAME.

The name Browning is an Anglo-Saxon word, and comes to us from Old England. The earlier name was Brüning, and came from the Germans back in the early centuries. The name Bruning was spelled in various ways, namely: Brunning, Bruening, Browneing, Brimming, Brininge, Browninge, etc.

The earliest form of this name was, according to the poet, Robert Browning, "De Bruni," which was the name of one of the ancient Germanic tribes who inhabited the northern part of Germany, around the shores of the Baltic Sea. According to the scholar, John Aaron Browning, the form of the word in High German is Brauning, and in low German, Brüning. These different forms of this name may still be found in many parts of Germany. Prof. Francis Liebur, of Columbia, once told me that the German word for Browning was Von Brüning, and he had personally known members of that family in Germany. In the biography of the great musical composer, Beethoven, it is said that a family by the name of Von Brüning resided at Bohn on the Rhine, the birthplace of Beethoven, and that they were his patrons and at various times assisted him when he was in financial distress.

When the Brünings migrated from Germany to England, the Anglo-Saxons changed the name to Browning, as being the Anglo-Saxon form of the word. And the English people liking it better called them Browning instead of Brüning, and the latter adopted the name. Many people have of recent years come from Germany, where they have borne the name of Brüning, but after landing in America changed it to Browning, as being more in accordance with the liking of the American people, though a few still retain the old form of the name.

The word Brüning probably refers to the color of the people originally so called. The word Brun meaning brown, and the suffix "ing," meaning, relating to, the word Brüning would thus mean, relating to those of a brown color. Some scholars, however, say that the suffix "ing" is a diminutive, and means less, so that the word Brüning would mean less brown than their neighbors. The Brünings originally being of a light complexion, light eyes, and light hair, might very naturally have been styled Brünings, or those less brown than their neighbors. The Anglo-Saxon word Browning may mean the same as the German writers have ascribed to the name Brüning, but a reference to Noah Webster's dictionary will show that the Anglo-Saxon word "ing" means a meadow or low pasture land, such as surrounded the shores of the Baltic Sea. As the Brünings originally came from that locality the word may have referred to them as inhabitants of the low meadows or pasture lands in the northern part of Germany. The preponderance of views, however, is that the name refers to the color rather than to the locality from whence they came.

HISTORY.

The question is often asked me, "How far back can you go?" As regards individual ancestors, my answer is, "To Mrs. Elizabeth Browning, of London, England, the mother of Nathaniel Browning, about the year 1600." But, as regards national history, "Back to the creation of the world." Let us consider the latter for a moment that I may explain what I mean.

First, in the sacred history of the Old Testament of the Holy Bible, we have the history of the Sons of God quite fully narrated up to the times of Noah and the flood. Little is said about the Sons of Men, but as they were all drowned in the flood, it is enough to know about them that they were dreadfully wicked and deemed unfit to live. At any rate, none of the Brownings came from that stock, so we have nothing to do with them. By the term, "Sons of God," is meant those who worshipped God as He directed, and who sought to serve Him; while by the term, "Sons of Men," are meant those who refused so to worship Him, and whose thoughts and devices were evil continually.

After the flood, Noah and his wife and their three sons and their wives were the only living persons who survived, and the sacred volume tells us that Japheth and his descendants went to the land where the Garden of Eden was originally located, namely, between the rivers Euphrates and Tigris, in the southern part of Asia.

There, they commenced to build the tower of Babel, that should reach to Heaven, that no flood should drown them thereafter. Then the confusion of tongues came, and men were scattered abroad in the earth. The descendants of Japheth remained in that locality however, and became the great Assyrian nation. They built the great cities of Babylon and Nineveh, which lasted for centuries. In after ages, some of them journeyed to the westward, and crossed the Caucasus Mountains, and came into Europe. They advanced along the upper shores of the Black Sea until they came to the rivers Don and Volga. They followed these northwesterly, until they came to Germany and the Baltic Sea. Here they settled and remained many centuries and were known as the Belgae, Germanii, Helvetii, and by many other names of tribes, of whom we read in Caesar's Gallic Wars. The Romans conquered many of the tribes who were nearer to Italy, but those who dwelt in the extreme north they never overcame. Among the more northerly tribes were the De Brunii, or De Bruni, afterward known as the Brünings, who lived on the shores and lowlands of the Baltic Sea. They were a warlike tribe, and after the decline of the Roman power and the Roman soldiers were recalled from Britain back to Rome, the ancient Bretons or Celts being left unprotected, the northern tribes of Germany, including the De Brunii, sailed across to Britain, fought against and conquered them, and settled in their land. This was in the year about 450 A. D. They went over under the leadership of Horsa and Hengist, and settled in the southern part of England in the county of Kent. Here they remained a long time and were absorbed by the Anglo-Saxons, and the German name of Brüning was changed to the Anglo-Saxon name of Browning. From southern England they spread northward over all England and into Scotland, Ireland and Wales. Some of the Brownings were learned in the professions, but most of them followed farming and agriculture.

At the time of the Reformation in the Sixteenth Century, when men's minds were greatly agitated over the question of reform in the church, and when the Church of England was opposed to the Roman Catholic Church, there also sprang up a spirit of intolerance in the Church of England against all those who would not conform to her views and ritual. At this time many persons clamored for greater purity in the church, and on this account were called "Puritans." They existed extensively in Germany, France and England, and when the band of Puritans in 1620 sailed from Germany and landed on the shores of Massachusetts, there were many in England who desired to follow them, seeking larger religious liberty.

The Church of England had silenced many of the Non-Conformist ministers located in various parts of England, and had forbidden them to preach their doctrines under severe penalties. These persecutions increased the desire of the Non-Conformists to go to America, and large numbers soon followed the Pilgrim Fathers, among whom were a goodly number of the Brownings, who settled principally in Massachusetts and Virginia.

Among those of the Brownings who first went to America, whose names are mentioned in the public record, are the following:

John Browning, who was born in 1594 in England, and came to America in 1621, in the "Abigail," and settled in Elizabeth City, Va.

William Browning, who was living at College Lands, Va., in 1623, and who also came from England.

Thomas Browning, born 1588, in England, who came to America about 1626, and settled in Salem, Mass. He had five daughters, but no sons. The daughters all married and changed their names. As there were no Brownings among his descendants I have not followed his line beyond the families of the daughters.

Malachi, came from England and settled in Boston a little after 1630. He was a bachelor and died there in the year 1653.

Joseph Browning, who came from London, England, in the ship "Thomas," in the year 1635, settled in Virginia.

Henry Browning, who came from England, was living in New Haven, Conn., in 1639. In 1647 he sold his estate, and probably returned to England.

Nathaniel Browning, who came from England to America in the year 1640, settled at Portsmouth, R. I. From him most of the Brownings are descended who live in the New England and the Middle States.

Ann Browning, who went from England to Barbadoes, West Indies, shipped from there in the vessel "Martin," in 1679, for Newfoundland, Canada. I find no further reference to her.

Joseph Brüning, who came from Germany and settled in Boston, Mass., was in the book business there and died in 1690. I can find no further record respecting him.

James Browning, who came from Ireland in 1728, settled in Rutland, Mass. His descendants live in New England and the Middle States.

As most of the Brownings who now live in the New England and the Middle States are descendants of Nathaniel Browning, I will commence this genealogy with him and give his line of descent. He had three grand-sons, namely, John, William and Samuel, all born at Portsmouth, R. I. Many of his descendants are in the habit of speaking of their line as coming from one of these three grand-sons. For their convenience, I will sub-divide the Nathaniel Browning line into three divisions, namely, the John Browning line, the William Browning line, and the Samuel Browning line.

Nathaniel Browning, of Rhode Island Line.

NATHANIEL BROWNING.

Son of Mrs. Elizabeth Browning, of London, England.

Born in London, England, about the year 1618.

Married Sarah Freeborn, daughter of William and Mary Freeborn, about the year 1650.

They had two children, namely:

2. William Browning, b. about 1651.
3. Jane Browning, b. about 1655.

Nathaniel Browning died at Portsmouth, R. I., about the year 1670, when about 52 years old.

Mrs. Sarah Browning, wife of Nathaniel, died at Portsmouth, R. I., April 23, 1670, aged 38 years.

Mrs. Elizabeth Browning, of London, England, was born probably about 1597, and married Mr. Browning about 1615. We find her name mentioned as being in London, Eng., in 1619. They had two children, Samuel Browning, born about 1616, and Nathaniel, born about 1618. After the death of her first husband, she married John Palmer, who was a merchant in silk and woolen goods in London. We may infer that Mrs. Elizabeth Browning and her husband were pious people as they gave both of their children Biblical names. Her second husband, Mr. John Palmer, was also a pious man, and a Puritan or Non-Conformist, as appears from his will, dated Nov. 1, 1631, and proved Feb. 12, 1632, showing that he died in the year 1632. His will directs his three executors to bring up his two sons-in-law, or as we would call them "step-sons," Samuel Browning and Nathaniel Browning, "In the fear of the Lord." After providing for the maintenance of his two step-sons and his widow, he also leaves money that his widow should support silenced ministers, as she had been accustomed to do. This indicates that Mrs. Elizabeth Browning and both her husbands were Non-Conformists, and shows also that persecutions were rife at that time. This probably was the inducing cause which led Nathaniel Browning to embark for America soon after he became of age, or in the year 1640, when he was about 22 years old. He landed in Boston, and from there went to Portsmouth, R. I. The reason for his going there is probably due to the fact that his subsequent father-in-law, William Freeborn, was also a Puritan or Non-Conformist and had sailed from Ipswich, Eng., in the year 1634, when he was 40 years old, his wife Mary 35 years old, and his daughter Mary 7 years old, his son John Thomas was 14 years old, and his second daughter, Sarah, was two years old.

They came from Ipswich, Eng., which is a seaport town about 58 miles north-east of London. They came over in the ship "Francis," Apr. 30, 1634, and landed in Boston, Mass. Mr. William Freeborn became much interested in the settlement of Portsmouth, R. I., and went there in the year 1638, along with his family, and settled there. He was among the most prominent and distinguished men of the settlement. It was very natural that Nathaniel Browning, coming to this country alone, should seek out his friends, and we find that he actually did so and went to Portsmouth, R. I., in 1640, being then 22 years old. The first mention that we have of Nathaniel Browning in the records of Rhode Island, is in the year 1645, when it is stated that he purchased a dwelling house and two lots in Warwick, for three pounds of wampum. This wampum consisted of strings of carefully selected shells, considered and used as money by the Indians.

Afterward, about 1650, he married Sarah, second daughter of William Freeborn, she being about 18 years old and he about 32. In the year 1654, Nathaniel Browning was made a Freeman. This implied a good deal at that time, as the colonies were very young, and not only the Indians were in the vicinity, frequently visiting the settlements, but also, what was more to be dreaded, many persons of uncertain character were continually coming from England to America who threatened the peace and quiet of the settlements. As any person who was made a Freeman was at once taken into the council and government of the colony, such persons were only admitted by the General Court, and after taking an oath of allegiance to the government here established; and it was very important for the protection of their wives and children, as well as their property, that no persons but those responsible and of good standing should be admitted as Freemen. This custom continued until the second charter, in 1692, made Massachusetts a royal province.

The second husband of Mrs. Elizabeth Browning was John Palmer, Esq., son of Michael Palmer, and he had two brothers, Thomas and Andrew Palmer, and two sisters, Mary and Elizabeth. He appears to have been a friend of Mrs. Elizabeth Browning's first husband, as he was selected as one of his executors or trustees, and the money left by Mr. Browning, some £600 or £700, was intrusted to Mr. Palmer for the education and maintenance of his two sons.

The will of Mr. John Palmer, proved Feb. 12, 1632, reads as follows:

"John Palmer, of London, Mercer, November 1, 1631: One-third part of my estate, according to the laudable custom of this City of London, to my wife, Elizabeth Palmer; another one-third to such child or children as I shall have by my wife, and to be paid them when then come to one and twenty years of age, and in case of their death, the said portion to be given to my wife; the remaining one-third part of my estate I give as follows: To Mr. Googe, Mr. Sibbs, Mr. Davenport, and Mr. Offspring, who are Feoffers, the sum of twenty pounds, to be disbursed about the buying of appropriations, or the like, as they think fit, for the Church of God. To my brother, Milburne Palmer, ten pounds. The rest to my wife Elizabeth, whom I make sole Executrix, etc. And I desire Mr. Davenport, minister, Mr. French, warehouseman in lumber, and Mr. Edward Hopkins, of London, merchant, that they would be pleased (after my wife's decease) to take into their custody my sons-in-law, Samuel and Nathaniel Browning, and to educate and bring them up in the fear of the Lord, and likewise to have within your own custodies, their portions given them of their father for their maintenance and education, which portion of their's is about 676 pounds, or thereabouts, 300 pounds whereof is in the Chamberlain's hands, which I received 15 pounds per annum for, and other 376 pounds is in my own hands, whereof I have a bond to Mr. Thomas Frel for 100 pounds of it to be paid to him for them; all which I desire to be put into their hands for their maintenance.

To Mather Barnard, porter, 50 pounds. To Ezekiel Hollyman, 5 pounds, to be bestowed upon necessities for the Church of Wigginton. And 5 pounds more I desire my wife to give to two silenced ministers whom she thinks for. I also give 5 of my great books to my brother Francis, which he may make choice among my books."

This Mr. Nathaniel Browning was the founder of one of the oldest families in New England, and his descendants have held many important positions in the Northern States.

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Son of Nathaniel Browning and Sarah Freeborn. 1

Born about 1651 at Portsmouth, R. I.

Married first, Rebecca Wilbur, 1687, daughter of Samuel Wilbur and Hannah Porter, and grand-daughter of Samuel Wilbur and of John Porter, both of whom were original settlers of Portsmouth.

Second wife, Sarah ———, who died 1730.

They had five children, namely:

950. Samuel, b. Feb. 9, 1688.

4. Hannah, b. July 16, 1691.

600. William, b. Sept. 29, 1693.

5. Sarah, b. April, 1694.

6. John, b. March 4, 1696.

Died in 1730, about 80 years of age.

Mr. William Browning was a farmer and lived at N. Kingston, R. I. He was made a freeman in the year 1684. The records show that he exchanged lands with ——— in 1685. All his children were by his first wife.

Record also shows Feb. 26, 1688, he sold to Robt. Fisher 20 acres. Will dated Jan. 12, 1730; proved Feb. 8, 1730. His will reads as follows: "To wife Sarah, 30 pound, yearly, for life; to eldest son Samuel, 250 acres in S. Kingston, 100 pounds, and to have also 10 pounds paid him by his brother William and 50 pounds by his brother John; to son William, 250 acres in S. Kingston on which he now dwelleth; to son John, 100 acres at Point Judith, where he dwelleth; to daughter Sarah, 200 pounds; to deceased daughter Hannah Knowles' children, Rebecca and Hannah, 100 pounds at 18, equally divided; to three sons the rest of the estate equally. Inventory: 1,199 pounds, 16 shillings, and 7 pence; viz. 61 oz. of silver, 24 pounds, 8 shillings; wearing apparel, canes, gloves, and belt, 19 pounds, 2 shillings; bond, 61 pounds, 17 shillings, 5 pence; riding horse, negro woman, 80 pounds, pair of oxen, 57 sheep, 9 cows, 5 horse-kind, 7 swine." Son Samuel, Executor.

JANE BROWNING.

• Daughter of Nathaniel Browning and Sarah Freeborn. I

Born about 1655, at Portsmouth, R. I.

Married James Sweet, son of John Sweet and Elizabeth ———.

They had eight children, namely:

Daniel Sweet. .

William Sweet.

Nathaniel Sweet.

Mary Sweet.

Sarah Sweet, born Oct. 10, 1677.

Elizabeth Sweet.

Renewed Sweet.

Susannah Sweet.

Mrs. Jane Sweet died in 1719, and her husband died the same year.

Sarah married Thos. Angell, Apr. 4, 1700. Their children were Jeremiah, married, Dec. 8, 1715, Sarah Tucker; Hallelujah Angell, married, Aug. 31, 1702, Jas. Olney; Hosanna Angell, married Mary Hawkins; Jonathan Angell; and Daniel Angell, married Mary Sprague.

The descendants of this family were known as the natural "Bone Doctors," and many cures effected by them are narrated among the people of New England. On one occasion my grandfather, Col. John W. Hull, was thrown from his carriage and his shoulder dislocated. He was driven to the Sweet residence, but all the gentlemen were away from home. One of the daughters invited him into the house, and as he was suffering great pain she said to him: "Let me see what I can do for you." She placed him in a chair, and then going behind him put one of her knees to his back and with both hands on his shoulders gave a powerful pull, and the shoulder blade slipped back in place. The Colonel gave a cry of pain, but then all was over and he was cured and went home a happy man. Many such incidents are narrated of the natural skill of this family. One of the descendants is still living at Amsterdam, N. Y., and practices bone setting there.

Mr. James Sweet was a constable.

Mrs. Jane Sweet received a quarter interest in 20 acres of land from her mother, Mary Freeborn, and afterward sold it to Gideon Freeborn, her uncle, brother of William Freeborn.

HANNAH BROWNING.

Daughter of William Browning and Rebecca Wilbur. 2

Born July 16, 1691, at S. Kingston, R. I.

Married William Knowles, son of John Knowles and Elizabeth Sweet.

They had two children, namely:

Rebecca Knowles.

Hannah Knowles.

Mrs. Hannah Knowles lived at S. Kingston, R. I., where she died in 1726, aged 35 years.

The will of her husband, William Knowles, was dated April 26, 1726; proved Aug. 19, 1727; showing that he died one year after his wife.

His will appoints brother, Henry Knowles, and brother-in-law, John Browning, his executors, and provides that "to daughters Rebecca and Hannah Knowles all my worldly goods, equally, at 18. All estate to be turned into money and let out until daughters are of age. Inventory: 767 pounds, 17 shillings, viz: 5 bonds, 534 pounds, 6 shillings; wearing apparel, 24 pounds; two horses, two mares, hog, etc."

SARAH BROWNING.

Daughter of William Browning and Rebecca Wilbur. 2

Born April, 1694, at S. Kingston, R. I.

Married Eleazer Kelley, 1721.

John Browning, of South Kingston Line.

JOHN BROWNING.

Son of William Browning and Rebecca Wilbur. 2

Born March 4, 1696, at South Kingston, R. I.

Married Ann Hazard, daughter of Jeremiah Hazard and Sarah Smith, April 21, 1721.

They had ten children, namely:

9. Thomas, b. 1722.
13. Sarah Elizabeth, b. 1724.
7. Jeremiah, b. 1726.
15. Hannah, b. 1728.
16. Martha, b. 1732.
14. Ann, b. 1734.
11. Eunice, b. 1740.
10. John, b. Sept. 15, 1742.
12. Mary, b. 1744.
8. Ephraim, b. Sept. 20, 1746.

Died 1777 and was buried at Exeter, R. I., aged 81 years.

John Browning was one of the three grandsons of Nathaniel Browning, and as the people of New England were in the habit of speaking of the John Browning line, of which this John Browning is the ancestor, I shall speak of his descendants as of the John Browning line.

He was a farmer, and lived in South Kingston, near the sea coast. He was made a freeman in 1744. The records show that on the 8th of March, 1738, he bought of Jeffrey Hazard a tract of 200 acres, giving 2,000 pounds for it. On Oct. 20, 1741, he sold to Stephen Hazard, for 3,000 pounds, a tract of land of 100 acres. On April 27, 1741, he deeded 40 acres to his son Jeremiah of the land bought of Jeffrey Hazard, a relative of his wife. In later years, the Hazard family became very wealthy by manufacturing woolens, their principal mill being at Peacedale, R. I.

John Browning's wife, Ann Hazard, was a great-granddaughter of Thomas Hazard, the emigrant and progenitor of the notable Hazard family in America. This Thomas Hazard was born in 1610, and was one of those who organized the Newport Colony in 1639. Among his sons was Robert Hazard, born in 1650, died 1710. Other sons were George Hazard, who died in 1743, and Jeremiah Hazard, born in 1675 and died 1768. Jeremiah married Sarah Smith, and their daughter, Ann Hazard, married this John Browning (number 6). Jeremiah Hazard's daughter Sarah married Robert Morey, of Newport, R. I., whose daughter Catherine married William T. Browning (number 35). John Browning belonged to the Society of Friends. The will of John Browning, who married Ann Hazard, is recorded as follows:

"Dated Aug. 23, 1770; proved April 14, 1777; Executor, son Jeremiah."
 "To grandsons, Thomas and William, sons of Thomas, deceased, all my lands in South Kingston, being part of my homestead farm, about 100 acres, they paying as hereafter expressed. And to them, 14 acres salt marsh in Charleston. To son Jeremiah, daughter Hannah Frink, daughter Sarah Stanton, son John, son Ephraim, 6 shillings; grand-daughters Temperance and Abigail Frink, a bed; to six children, rest of estate, viz: to Jeremiah, a whole share, Sarah Stanton, 1-4 share, Martha Powers, Anne Browning, Mary Champlin, Eunice Clark, a whole share each, and so divide the whole. Inventory: 106 pounds, 6 shillings, 4 pence, viz: wearing apparel, 7 pounds, 10 shillings, loom, Bible, etc."

John Browning lies buried in the little Quaker burying ground at S. Kingston, R. I., near the factory. A small grey granite headstone, dug from the hills near by, marks the spot where he lies. The simple name, "John Browning," is all that is carved upon it, while at his side a small mound of earth marks the resting place of his wife Ann Hazard, with no tombstone at all to mark the spot. They both lived simple lives and their graves are in accord with the custom of the Quakers at that time.

JEREMIAH BROWNING.

Son of John Browning and Ann Hazard. 6

Born 1726 at South Kingston, R. I.

Married Ruth Browning, daughter of William Browning (No. 606), on May 4, 1755.

They had eight children, namely:

William, died young.

17. Jeremiah, born Sept. 7, 1758.

18. Samuel, born Aug. 16, 1770.

THOMAS BROWNING.

Eldest son of John Browning and Ann Hazard. 6

Born in 1722, at Kingston, R. I.

Married, first, Mary Browning, of the William Browning line, No. 604, daughter of William Browning and Mary Wilkinson.

Second, Anna Hoxie, July 2, 1769, daughter of Solomon and Mary Hoxie, of Richmond, R. I.

He had five children, four by his first wife, and one by his second wife:

- 33. Robert, born about 1757.
- 34. Thomas, born about 1761.
- 35. William T., born May 11, 1765.
- 36. Annie, born about 1767.
- 37. Joshua, born about 1770.

He died in 1770, aged 52 years at S. Kingston R. I., and was buried there in the "Friends' Cemetery," where his tombstone may be seen. He was a farmer at Hopkington, R. I., and was made a Freeman in 1742. He was a Quaker.

Mr. Thomas Browning was Ensign of Co. I, S. Kingston, Regt. 3, May, 1743; made Capt. of his Co., May, 1747. Mentioned as Justice of Peace at Little Compton, June, 1749.

Mr. Thomas Browning left no will, but the inventory of his personal estate shows: 2,500 lbs. of cheese, valued at 42 pounds, 8 shillings and 8 pence; 91 lbs. of skim cheese, valued at 10 shillings, 3 pence; one yoke seven-year-old oxen, valued at 10 pounds, 10 shillings; 11 cows, at 3 pounds, 15 shillings each; 2 tablespoons and 5 teaspoons, solid silver, 1 pound, 10 shillings. Total inventory of personal estate amounted to 650 pounds. After his death, his second wife, Anna Hoxie, married Simeon Morey. This was a distinguished family and lived at Newport, R. I., and as there were several intermarriages between the Brownings and the Moreys, I give here the line of the Morey family to show the connection.

The founder of the Morey family in this country was one Roger Morey, reputed to be a cousin of Roger Williams. They probably came together from England and lived successively, first at Plymouth, then at Salem, Massachusetts, then at Providence, R. I., and then at Newport, R. I. By the old record, Roger Morey was appointed a meatherd at Salem about 1637, and by his contract he was to tend and herd the cows, etc., for 7 shillings per head for the season, beginning the latter part of February, as hay being scarce they had to depend on browsing for the cattle. He was appointed again in 1642, at a reduced rate, as hay was plenty.

He probably went to Providence in 1643. In 1656, he laid out a lot of land on the hill over against Roger Williams. His wife's name was Mary Heath. He died Jan. 5, 1666. Benjamin Morey, the son of Roger Morey, was born in Roxbury, or Salem, Mass., May 8, 1649, where his parents must have gone for a time. In 1674, he married Martha Potter, widow of I. Potter, and daughter of Thomas Hazard. After his marriage, he lived at Kingston, R. I., where he died. Joseph Morey, son of Benjamin Morey, was born in 1675, and married Sarah Hazard in 1705. He had four sons, Robert, Joseph, Benjamin and Roger, and one daughter, Mary. He died in 1718. Robert Morey, son of Joseph, was born in 1706, and married Sarah Hazard, of Rhode Island. They had six children: Joseph, Joshua, Robert, Jeremiah, Sarah, and Mary. Robert Morey, son of Robert, was born in Rhode Island, in 1736. He was a ship carpenter in Newport during the Revolution, and had British soldiers quartered in his house. Near the close of the Revolution, he sold his place in Newport and bought a farm near Wickford, and had the option to pay 400 pounds in gold or 2,000 pounds in Continental money. He paid the latter. He was born in 1736, and married Katharine Guinedeau in 1757, and died May 11, 1793. He helped to build the "Beachbird," famed in local song and story as sailing into Newport Bay without a crew. Robert and Catherine Morey had five children: Robert, born 1758, and died 1849, aged 91, who married Ruth Browning; Lewis, born 1760, married Betsey, and had no children; Sarah, born 1762, married Jeremiah Browning; Catherine, born 1766, married William T. Browning, of Stonington, Conn.; Betsey, born 1768, married Samuel Browning, of Adams, Mass. Robert helped in building the ship "Constitution," and assisted his father in running the blockade during the Revolution. Lewis was a midshipman on the "Constitution," and a captain of a vessel in the war of 1812. He died at St. Mary's, Florida, in 1818. He was with the first U. S. vessel that went to the Black Sea.

Samuel Browning died June 17, 1851, aged 80 years, of disease of the heart and old age, at South Adams, Mass. His wife died 1835. He was a farmer and lived at Mystic, Conn., when first married, and afterwards moved to South Adams, Mass. In his religious views he was a Quaker. It is related of him that once, being on a jury, he was fined $25.00 for refusing to take the customary oath. Afterwards the judge, in giving his charge to the jury, cautioned them to act conscientiously, whereupon Mr. Samuel Browning reminded his honor that he had just fined him $25.00 for acting in that manner. The judge saw his inconsistency and withdrew the fine. It is also related that afterwards Mr.

Browning petitioned the legislature of Massachusetts that where persons had conscientious scruples against taking the oath they might affirm instead. The law passed both branches of the legislature upon his signature alone and became the law ever afterwards.

Sarah Morey, b. Dec. 19, 1805.

Died and was buried at Lisbon, Conn., July 28, 1838, aged 70 years.

Her husband, Robert Morey, died in 1849. He was a ship builder and along with his father assisted in building the war vessel "Constitution," or "Old Ironsides." This was one of six vessels ordered by the government in 1794 and finished in 1797. It was built at Boston. It was a ship of 44 guns, 1,576 tons. The number of guns was increased to 55 guns, firing 700 lbs. of metal broadside. Under the command of Lieut. Isaac Hull, she met the famous English frigate, "Guerriere," under Captain Dacres. They challenged for single conflict. And the two commanders made a bet of a hat, each that he would conquer the other's vessel. After a very severe encounter, the English frigate being almost destroyed, its captain surrendered. Lieut. Hull refused to take the British officer's sword, but said he would take the hat. The English frigate was blown up and Lieut. Hull took all the prisoners into Boston.

The "Constitution" had a very brilliant career, fought many battles, took numerous prizes. In 1830 the "Constitution" had become very unseaworthy and the Government had decided to destroy it, but the thrilling poem of Oliver Wendell Holmes raised so much enthusiasm that it was decided to repair the vessel. In later years she became a training ship, and is now in Charleston Harbor at Boston.

Thomas.

539. Phoebe, b. Jan. 26, 1804.

540. Catherine, b. Jan. 26, 1804.

Mr. Robert Browning, in January, 1784, was one of the Americans committed to Old Mill Prison, England, during the Revolutionary War, having been taken on the cutter Alliance, June 5, 1781. He was subsequently released, and in June, 1785, successfully petitioned the General Assembly in session at Newport, that the restriction upon the alienation of his lands be removed, alleging, "being young, in the late war, he was persuaded to settle upon the island of R. I., then in possession of the enemy, that he was soon convinced of his folly and returned to S. Kingston." The Assembly, it seems, had forbidden the sale of his lands without its authority.

Mr. Browning's father died before the son had attained his majority. A tradition says that because he had received the principal part of his father's real estate, as the eldest son, his grandfather, John Browning, did not mention him in his will, although giving land to his younger brothers, Thomas and William.

They lived at Hopkinton, R. I.

THOMAS BROWNING, JR.

Son of Thomas Browning and Mary Browning. 9

Born about 1761 at S. Kingston, R. I.

102. Mary, b. Oct. 26, 1818.

103. Susan, b. Oct. 29, 1821.

Probably died at Hopkinton, R. I.

He was a farmer, a Quaker, and lived at Hopkinton, R. I.

Thomas, Jr., and his brother, William T., were left by their father, John Browning, 100 acres of land in S. Kingston, R. I., and 14 acres of salt marsh land in S. Kingston, R. I.

35

WILLIAM THOMAS BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Browning and Mary Browning. 9

Born May 11, 1765, at S. Kingston, R. I.

Married, Dec. 29, 1784, Catherine Morey, daughter of Robt. Morey and Katharine Guineau, of Newport, R. I.

They had fourteen children, namely:

112. Catherine, b. Jan. 28, 1786.

113. Mary, b. Feb. 4, 1788.

105. Thomas, b. April 21, 1790.

114. Elizabeth, b. July 1, 1792.

106. William, b. August 25, 1796.

107. Joseph M., b. June 17, 1798.

Joshua, b. July 17, 1800, d. on the farm at N. Stonington, about a mile east of Preston City, when he was only three weeks old; buried in the Browning Cemetery at Preston, Conn

108. John Hazard, b. July 28, 1801.

109. Latham H., b. April 13, 1804.

110. Oren T., b. March 31, 1806.

111. Benjamin Franklin, b. Feb. 18, 1808.

117. Susan A., b. Nov. 8, 1810.

Died Jan. 2, 1826, in his 61st year, on his farm in Preston, about 1 1-2 miles east of Preston City, of rheumatism.

Mr. William Thomas Browning was left an orphan when he was six years of age. He went to live with his uncles, who were also his guardians. He lived part of the time with his uncle, Jeremiah Browning, and part of the time with his uncle, John Browning. His mother died when he was very young. When he was eleven years old, his guardians sold a farm for him for a large amount, for those days, and the money was stored in his guardian's house in South Kingston in gold and silver coins. This was during the war of the Revolution, and the State Government sent officers with soldiers, and took the money and left in its place Continental currency, which was stored in barrels in the garret of the house. When he moved from South Kingston, after his marriage with Catherine Morey, he went to Preston Township, Conn., and bought a farm there. He built a new farm house on the dividing line between the townships of Preston and N. Stonington, so that one-half of the house was in one township and one-half in the other. This afterwards became known as the old Browning homestead, and is still standing, in very good condition, at the present time and is occupied by a Mr. Richardson. The barrels of Continental money Mr. Browning took with him and stored them in the garret of his new house. He was married when he was eighteen years old, to Catherine Morey, she being seventeen years old at that time. She was born at Newport, Jan. 10, 1767. During the war of the Revolution, her father, Robert Morey, lived at Newport, and was a large ship builder and owner. Mr. Morey sent ships to the East Indies and brought back indigo, silks and other merchandise from the East. He and his father took part in building the celebrated frigate "Constitution." He was a master builder in charge of part of the work. She was one of six vessels ordered by Congress in the year 1794, to increase the efficiency of our navy, on account of the Algerian piracies. She was a 44-gun frigate, built in the very best manner known at that time. An English officer in 1815 said she was one of the finest, if not the very finest frigate, he ever set foot on. She achieved many victories and was the pride of the American people. In 1830 she was declared unseaworthy and condemned to be broken up, when the poem of Oliver Wendell Holmes, entitled "Old Ironsides," created such a revulsion of public sentiment that she was repaired and again put in commission. Though now old and disabled, she is still preserved in Boston Harbor, as a historic relic and an inspiration for patriotism.

Robert Morey was a Quaker, and therefore refused to serve in the army. He built two ships and gave them to the government. The name of one of these is said to have been the "Beach Bird," celebrated in song as having come under full sail into Newport Harbor without any crew on board. This gave him great notoriety in the country and rendered him an object of hatred to the British who, when they came to Newport, shelled and pillaged his house and drove his family over to the mainland at a place called Quidnessett Neck, where they lived until they died. His daughter (my grandmother), used to tell us that she could recollect when the British came to her father's house at Newport, and pillaged it and drove her father's family across the bay; that she stood on the shore and saw the British cast beautiful furniture and valuable paintings into the bay, and she saw them float out to sea.

When William T. Browning was married, he had only one small farm left, and that was at South Kingston, where they went to live for a short time. Very soon thereafter, he sold out this farm for about $6,000, and took the money and went to Preston City and bought a farm and erected the old homestead there. His wife, Catherine Morey, was the daughter of Robert Morey and Katharine Guinedeau, who were married March 23, 1758, by the Rev. Wm. Vinall, at Newport. Katharine Guinedeau was the daughter of Louis Guinedeau and Sarah Dunham. Sarah Dunham was the sister of John Dunham, who married Mary Lucas in Newport, 1738; of Jos. Dunham, who married Elizabeth Orne at Newport, 1741; of Mercy Dunham, who married Benjamin Mortimer in 1746; of Robert Dunham, who married Elizabeth Spooner in 1762; and of Daniel Dunham, who died in 1738. These are all children of Daniel and Abigail Dunham. These Dunhams and the Guinedeaus were French Huguenot refugees who fled from persecution in France. They could speak nothing but French when they first came to America, and did not understand any English, but they were people of illustrious birth, and brought a good deal of wealth with them.

William T. Browning was buried in what is now known as the Browning Cemetery, on his farm. Catherine Morey Browning, his wife, lived to be 92 years old and died in 1859, and was buried in the Browning Cemetery on the farm. The writer saw her in 1857, when he was 20 years old and she was 90. She looked very stout at that time, which was probably on account of her being short in stature. Wm. T. Browning was a tall man with black eyes and rather slender. His wife had blue eyes and a fair complexion.

I quote from Mr. Amos A. Browning the following:

"Mr. Browning's middle name was assumed by him after reaching manhood, to distinguish him from others of the same christian name. Mr. Browning took under his grandfather's will, jointly with his brother Thomas, 100 acres of the homestead farm, and a small tract in Charlestown. He sold his landed estates in South Kingston about 1790 and soon afterward removed to Preston, Conn. He purchased land from various owners in the northwestern part of the present township of N. Stonington, and brought them together into a fine farm of 350 acres. The door-plate of the house erected by him, bearing the date 1800, is now in the possession of his great-grandson, Dr. William Browning. That he was a successful farmer is shown from the following newspaper clipping relative to the war, and the taxes payable, to the general government in 1813: 'The richest man in each of the towns Stonington, Groton and N. Stonington, was, Stonington, Coddington Billings, $36,684; Groton, Nicholas Chester, $16,768; N. Stonington, Wm. T. Browning, $15,449.' Mr. Browning was brought up in the Quaker faith. His marriage and removal from the state resulted at length in severing his relations with the order, and in later years he and his family were identified with the Congregational Church at Preston City. He was a man of sterling integrity and genial disposition. His wife was a daughter of Robert Morey, who was interested in commerce in Newport at the time of the Revolution, and, according to family tradition, lost heavily by the war. Her mother's family belonged to that sterling, devoted people, the French Huguenots, so many of whom abandoned their native country upon the revocation of the Edict of Nantes. The Guinedeaus, with many others, were attracted to Rhode Island because of the religious freedom for which that colony was especially distinguished. Three daughters and one son of Robert and Catherine Guinedeau married Brownings. Mr. and Mrs. Browning reared a family of twelve children, beside two who died in youth, four of whom lived to be over 70 years of age, six over 80. All were known for energy and uprightness of character."

Mr. Thomas Browning died Dec. 9, 1874, 84 years old, at Preston City, Conn., and was buried in the Browning cemetery on his father's farm, near Preston. He was born in S. Kingston, R. I., and was the eldest son of Wm. T. Browning and Catherine Morey. They moved from Rhode Island to N. Stonington, Conn., in 1792, when Thomas was only about two years old. After his marriage with Amy Prentice, he bought him a farm near his father's homestead, where he lived for many years and where all his children were born. After they had grown up many of them moved away, and he sold out his farm to his son William T., and bought another farm in Preston City, on the road to Norwich and about a quarter of a mile from the Baptist meeting house, where he lived as a farmer until the time of his death. He was a large man, six feet tall, and weighed nearly two hundred pounds. He attended the Congregational Church and was a member there. He was a man of excellent character and much beloved by his neighbors. I have spent many happy days at his house, and enjoyed driving his horses, reading his books, and being entertained by him. His wife was a very estimable woman, rather stout of build, a little slow of speech, and of amiable character.

Mr. Browning served as sergeant in the Connecticut State Militia in the war of 1812.

Amy Prentice, wife of Thomas Browning, was born in 1792 and died 1867, aged 75 years.

Both Mr. T. Browning and his wife were buried in the Browning cemetery at Preston, Conn. Joshua P., their son, was also buried there.

106

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Son of Wm. T. Browning and Catherine Morey. 35

Born Aug. 25, 1796, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married Eliza Ann Averill, of Gales Ferry, Conn., May 14, 1826.

They had six children, namely:

- 246. Abby Eliza, b. May 1, 1827.
- 244. William Franklin, b. July 23, 1830.
- 247. Catherine Augusta, b. Jan. 4, 1833.
- 245. Oren Fogle, b. Dec. 27, 1838.
- 248. Eleanora Mary, b. Jan. 30, 1841.
- 249. Mary Elizabeth, b. Feb. 8, 1845.

Died July 2, 1866, at Kalamazoo, Mich., 70 years old.

William Browning was born at the old Browning homestead, about one and a half miles from Preston City. About the time he married Eliza Ann Averill, he bought a place on the Thames River about six or eight miles above New London, on the easterly bank, called Gales Ferry. There he also had a large store, which was on the bank of the river, and his house was just across the street from it. There he lived many years, doing mercantile business, and there all his children were born. His wife died in 1863, and though he had himself always enjoyed very excellent health prior to that time, thereafter his health suddenly became poor. He was a tall, slim man, weighed about 165 pounds.

After his wife's death, he sold out his property at Gales Ferry, and made his plans to go West. While he was making a visit to his sister, Susan Slocum, of Slocumville, R. I., he was taken very sick with typhoid fever. After recovering from this, he found he was subject to heart trouble, which gave him some anxiety. He went with daughters Abby and Eleanora, and his son William Franklin, to Kalamazoo, Mich., where he lived until the time of his death, and was buried there.

I spent many happy days in his home at Gales Ferry. I was preparing for Columbia College when I first went there, and I well recollect one event which happened on my arrival. Uncle William said to me, "Come here, my college boy; you have a little cousin here, who is only seven years old, who can outspell you." This seemed very strange to me, but on trial I found it was only too true, for there was not a word in DeBall's spelling book which she could not spell correctly.

The house on the Thames River was sometimes considered haunted, and on one occasion there had been a good many strange sounds heard in the guest chamber, which was the second story front. After a good deal of investigation, it was finally discovered that a limb of one of the trees near the house rubbed against it during high winds, and that the rubbing sometimes produced a strange creaking noise, which one could easily fancy came from a ghost or almost anything else he might think of. After this limb had been cut away, the sounds ceased, and all fears and anxieties were forgotten.

On another occasion I recollect, my grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Morey Browning, came to make them a visit while I was there. At the supper table, Uncle William asked his mother if she was timid, and whether if she heard any sounds at night it disturbed her or kept her awake. She said "no," she did not think so. In due course of time she retired to the before mentioned guest chamber. In the morning, at breakfast table, uncle asked his mother if she slept well; she said, "pretty well," but that she heard some very strange sounds, and did not know what to make of it. She said it was a noise like "who-ho, who-ho." Others had heard these same sounds and therefore it was decided to investigate thoroughly and see if we could not discover the cause.

The next night, after having armed themselves with shot guns, two young men went up into the garret and secreted themselves there to watch. The moon shown in, through a small window, so as to shed a little light all around. They lay there quietly, without discovering anything in motion, or hearing any sound until about midnight. Then they discovered a rat come out from under the floor, and after looking cautiously all around, he clambered up over some boxes and barrels until he got up a number of feet from the floor. Then he jumped over upon the broad rim of one of the old fashioned spinning wheels, which in those days, or before those days, were commonly used by the housewives to spin yarn which was afterwards woven into linsey woolsey and then manufactured into garments for the household. When the rat leaped on to the rim of this large wheel, his weight started the wheel in motion, and the noise it made was something of the "who-ho, who-ho" kind. The young men lay still and watched, and presently another rat came and clambered up in the same way and jumped on the wheel and started it again in motion. As he came down he jumped off on some object near by and thence on to the floor. Presently other rats came and did the same thing. Each rat taking his turn, and they all seemed to enjoy the sport. When the spinning wheel was moved so that this game of the rats was no longer possible, the dreaded sounds ceased and were never afterwards heard.

This is the explanation of the haunted house which gave rise to so much talk at the time.

Mrs. Ann Eliza Averill Browning was a connection of the Perrys, and of Com. Oliver Hazard Perry, of Lake Erie fame, who won a signal victory over the British in colonial times.

The old house is still standing, but the Brownings are all gone, and the surroundings are very much changed.

Mr. Browning was a prominent and active member of the Presbyterian Church.

JOSEPH M. BROWNING.

Son of Wm. T. Browning and Catherine Morey. 35

Born June 17, 1798, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Died Sept. 10, 1817, when about 20 years old.

He lived at home in the old homestead until he left for New York City to enter a clerkship there. While there he met a Miss Treat, and fell in love with her and became engaged to her. During his engagement, he took a voyage to sea and on his return found that his betrothed had been unfaithful and had married a Mr. Doane. This so affected Mr. Jos. M. Browning's mind, that he shot himself. His body was carried home and buried in the Browning cemetery near Preston. His family and friends felt that Miss Treat had done him a great in-

It so happened that later on Mr. and Mrs. Doane came to Preston to and attended the same church that Mrs. Catherine Morey Browning. But the latter could not bear to sit in her pew and face the woman who had caused the death of her son, so she withdrew her membership from that church and joined one of the others in the same village.

JOHN HAZARD BROWNING.

Son of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. 35

Born July 28, 1801, at the Browning homestead near Preston City, Conn.

Married, first, Eliza Smith Hull, of Stonington, Conn., daughter of Col. John W. Hull and Elizabeth Smith, the latter of Waterford, Conn., Sept. 21, 1829. She died April 21, 1875, and is buried in Greenwood.

Married, second, Isabella V. R. Rutter, daughter of Wm. Rutter, of New York City, Jan. 11, 1876.

He had five children, all by the first wife, namely:

John W., b. Mar. 5, 1831, d. in 1833, when 2 years old, and was buried in the Browning cemetery at Preston, Conn.

- 250. William Charles, b. Nov. 13, 1833.
- 251. Edward Franklin, b. June 21, 1837.
- 252. Ann Elizabeth, b. Feb. 13, 1839.
- 253. John Hull, b. Dec. 25, 1841.

John Hazard Browning died March 22, 1877, aged about 76 years, in his house, No. 7 East 48th St., New York City. He was buried in Greenwood Cemetery.

John Hazard Browning grew up on his father's farm, near Preston City, Conn. When he was about five or six years old, he met with an accident which nearly cost him his life. On his father's farm there was a deep well, some forty feet in depth. A bucket of water had been placed on the spout of the well in which there were some cucumbers. While standing on the spout and leaning over to reach these cucumbers, the bucket slipped off and let him fall to the bottom of the well. Fortunately there was but little water in it, so that he did not drown, but one of his legs was broken in two places and he received a gash in the forehead which left a scar for the rest of his life. When the physician arrived, he was in favor of cutting off the broken leg; but his mother would not permit it to be done. She nursed him carefully, and he rapidly gained in strength, but for years had to go about with the aid of a crutch. Later on, the leg recovered entirely, and was apparently as well as the other. He taught school for several years before starting in business.

Mr. Browning commenced his first business venture at Milltown, Conn., in 1821, where he ran a general store, dealing largely in yarns spun by the farmers' wives. In 1829, when he was 28 years old, he married Eliza Smith Hull, a daughter of Col. John W. Hull, of N. Stonington, Conn. Shortly after his marriage he moved to New London, Conn., and there he continued a general merchandise business. His first son, John W., was born there in 1831, but he lived only two years and was buried in the Browning cemetery. In 1833 he moved to New York City and started in the dry goods business at the corner of Fulton and Water Streets, as Browning & Hull. The firm's name was soon thereafter changed to Browning, Hull & Marsh. In 1849 he closed this business and went into general merchandise business in California along with Mr. Oliver Jennings and Benjamin A. Brewster, whom he sent out to California for that purpose. He remained in New York City manufacturing clothing and buying other supplies, which he sent to the store in California. The store was burned three different times without fire insurance, and the stock a total loss; but after the third fire they erected a brick building with iron doors and shutters, which on a subsequent occasion, although becoming red hot from a fire in an adjoining building, saved them from further loss. This business was very prosperous, but he withdrew from it and all active business in 1857, except as a special partner with his eldest son in the clothing business, which was done by Hanford & Browning. The name of this firm was changed in 1861 to Wm. C. Browning & Co., consisting of his three sons. Afterwards this firm became Browning, King & Co., and now has stores in nearly all the principal cities of the United States.

When John Hazard Browning first came to New York City he purchased a house at 25 Gouverneur Street, where he lived many years, and where all his children were born excepting the eldest and the youngest. In 1854 he purchased a house and many lots on the southeast corner of 94th Street and Park Avenue. In 1874 he purchased No. 7 East 48th Street and resided there until the time of his death.

In 1866, at the close of the Civil War, Mr. Browning started, with his son-in-law, Amos G. West, in rebuilding the furnace at Columbia, Alabama, which had been destroyed by Gen. Sherman, and had been used by the Confederates for the manufacture of cannon and munitions of war for their army. Their business here was very prosperous. In 1874 they sold out and started a new iron furnace at Cedartown, Ga.

Mr. John Hazard Browning was a tall man, standing six feet in his stockings, and weighed about 180 pounds. He was devoted to his business and to his church. He paid but little attention to politics, further than casting his vote. He belonged to the old time Whigs, and afterward became a Republican. In his early life he attended and held office in the Presbyterian Church, but afterward became a member and an elder in the Dutch Reformed Church, corner Forty-eighth Street and Fifth Avenue. He was buried in Greenwood Cemetery and a large red granite shaft marks his last resting place.

His wife, Eliza Smith Hull, was the daughter of Col. John W. Hull, of N. Stonington, Conn., and Elizabeth Smith, of Waterford, Conn., and granddaughter of Hannah Williams and Charles Stewart Smith. They were married Sept. 21, 1829, when she was seventeen and he twenty-eight years old. Her sister, Eunice Hull, married Benjamin Franklin Browning, a brother of John Hazard Browning. Her brother, John Pomeroy Hull, married Hannah Jane Argall, of New York City. Her father married as his second wife, Nancy York, by whom he had three sons and two daughters, namely: Jesse Y. Hull, Lathrop Hull and Charles S. Hull, and the two daughters were, Ann Hull, who married, first, Erastus Hewitt, and second, Latham Stewart, and Elmira Hull, who married William Argall.

Mrs. Eliza S. Browning was a woman of short stature, with piercing black eyes, and possessed of a very retentive memory. She knew all the book of Matthew, and nearly all the book of Psalms by heart, and she could quote from Shakespere, Milton, Campbell, Montgomery, Byron, and all the other notable poets, almost without limit. She was the writer of many poems, and was very fond of music. She could entertain a whole room full of company with ease and grace.

LATHAM HULL BROWNING.

Son of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. . . . 35

Born April 13, 1804, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married Emeline Wheeler, of N. Stonington, Conn., Nov. 18, 1830, daughter of Amos Wheeler and Lucy Holmes.

They had five children, as follows:

- 254. Henry Latham, b. June 28, 1832.
- 255. Amos Wheeler, b. July 3, 1835.
- 258. Lucy Wheeler, b. Dec. 22, 1837.
- 256. James, b. Jan. 6, 1840.
- 257. Thomas Lathrop, b. Feb. 28, 1842.

Latham H. Browning died Feb. 8, 1847, 43 years old, at N. Stonington, Conn., of acute rheumatism. He was born at the old homestead near Preston, Conn., part of which lay in the town of N. Stonington and part in the town of Preston. When he was 26 years old, he married Emeline Wheeler, a daughter of Amos Wheeler, of N. Stonington. He took his wife to the old homestead, he and his wife living in part of it and the rest of his father's family living in the other part of the house. He was a farmer, and was noted for his energy and thriftiness. He made money enough to buy out all the heirs to the homestead, paying them some $23,000 for their share of it. He was inclined to overdo, was taken with acute rheumatism and died at the homestead, Feb. 8, 1847, and was buried in the Browning cemetery on the farm.

His wife died eleven years after his death, that is, in 1858, on Jan. 4. She was buried beside him.

OREN TREAT BROWNING.

Born March 31, 1806, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married, first, Eleanor Fogle, of Canton, O., Aug. 5, 1834 daughter of Dr. William Fogle.

Married, second, Frances McTaggart, of Philadelphia, Pa., Mar. 6, 1849, daughter of Capt. Wm. McTaggart.

He had two children by his first wife and three by his second wife, namely:

William Treat, d. an infant in 1837.

- 259. Oren Fogle, b. May 18, 1841.

Mary Frances, b. Feb. 10, 1850, d. Aug. 3, 1866, aged 16 yrs.

- 260. Annie Catherine, b. Sept. 7, 1853.

Flora Miller, a third daughter, died an infant.

Oren Treat Browning died Dec. 16, 1893, at Canton, O., aged 87 years.

He was born on the old homestead, about a mile east of Preston City, attended school there, and was taught farming until he was about sixteen years old. He then went to Groton, Conn., clerking with a merchant there for two years. Then he went to Milltown and went in business with his brother, John Hazard Browning, rated a general merchandise business, dealing largely in yarns which the farmers' wives wove into cloth and made into garments for their families. In 1833 his brother John moved to New York City, and Oren T. purchased goods at New York and shipped them to Cleveland, Ohio, which at that time was a small settlement and not easily reached. He himself went first to Philadelphia, and then rode on horse back to Canton, part of the way through forests with nothing but blazed trees to mark the road. Canton at that time was a place of about 500 inhabitants, some of whom were Tuscarora Indians. He continued in business there until 1868, opening branch stores in Mansfield and Lancaster, Ohio., Jackson., Ills., and Benton, Mo. There he married his first wife, Eleanor Fogle; there he did a general merchandise business, something the same as he had done at Milltown, Conn. He was quite prosperous in this business and laid up a good fortune for those times. Later on, he was induced to go into the flour milling business, which, though extensive, was not so profitable. He purchased the mill property known as the Fogle mill, built by Dr. Fogle in 1834.

After the death of his first wife, Mr. Browning married Frances McTaggart, of Philadelphia, by whom he had three children, one of whom died in infancy. After the death of his second wife, he took his two daughters, Mary and Annie, to Jonathan Slocum's house, at Slocumville, R. I., where they remained with their aunt, Susan, sister of their father. She brought them up very carefully, but Mary died when she was about 16 years old, that is, on August 3, 1866. She was a very beautiful girl and her death was much mourned.

After taking his daughters to his sister Susan's, and leaving them there, Mr. Browning returned to Canton, where his son still remained. There he lived until his death, Dec. 16, 1893, being about 87 years old, he having lived until all his brothers and sisters were dead, excepting his sister Susan. He was a famed chess player, and was president of a noted chess club, the members of which extended over a large district. Noted chess players came from all over the country to try their skill with him. He was about 5 feet 8 inches high, rather slightly built, and weighed about 150 pounds. He was buried in the cemetery at Canton, O. He was a staunch Presbyterian and prominent in the church.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN BROWNING.

Son of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. . . . 35

Born February 18, 1808, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married, first, Eunice Billings Hull, daughter of Col. John W. Hull and Elizabeth Smith, March 23, 1837, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married, second, Marianne J. Forbes, Dec. 19, 1844, at New York City, daughter of Col. John W. Forbes and Elizabeth Clark, of New York City.

He had five children, one by his first wife and four by his second wife, namely:

Eunice, b. 1841, d. 1841, a few month old.

262. Eliza Forbes, b. Sept. 16, 1846.

261. Franklin Morey, b. Feb. 28, 1848.

Malcolm Victor, b. Jan. 6, 1850, d. July 2, 1853, aged 3 yrs.

263. Laura Coleman, b. April 21, 1853.

Died September 19, 1853, in Brooklyn, N. Y., aged 45 years.

Benjamin Franklin Browning was born at the Browning homestead near Preston, Conn., and was the seventh son. On that account his father wanted him to be a doctor, in accordance with the old belief that the seventh son was always gifted by nature with natural talents for that profession. But the young man did not take a liking to medicine and preferred to be a merchant. It is said that one reason why he took a dislike to the profession of medicine, was that people who lived in his neighborhood would often come to see the little boy and put their hands upon him in the belief that if they simply touched him they would be cured of their diseases. This was repugnant to him and he recoiled from their advances. He came to New York City and started in the dry goods business in 1843, with Benjamin Pomeroy of Stonington, Conn., under the firm name of Browning & Pomeroy. They did a flourishing business until 1848, when the partnership was dissolved, and Mr. Browning continued the business. In 1837 he married Eunice Billings Hull, sister of Eliza S. Hull, who married his brother, John Hazard Browning. She was noted as being one of the most beautiful women in the land. She died in 1841, soon after the birth of her only child. Three years later Mr. Browning married his second wife, Marianne J. Forbes, who was also noted as a beautiful woman. She was related to Miss Catherine Wolfe, who gave drinking fountains for horses in New York City, also the Wolfe collection of pictures in the Metropolitan Museum, New York City.

Mr. Browning was an energetic man of business and overworked himself, and died very suddenly at his residence, in Joralemon St., Brooklyn. At the time of his death he was doing a large business under the firm name of Browning, Stephenson & Marsh, wholesale dry goods jobbers. Mr. Browning was a deacon in the Reformed Dutch Church of the Heights, Brooklyn, N. Y. He and both his wives and his first child and second son were all buried in the Browning cemetery at Preston, Conn. His widow bought a home for herself and her children at Phelps, N. Y., but spent the winters in the city. In 1861 she moved to Brooklyn to educate her children. Later she returned to Phelps, and some years after removed to Oil City, Pa. Later she went to Boston and died there March 10, 1891, aged 68 years.

CATHERINE BROWNING.

Daughter of Wm. T. Browning and Catherine Morey. . . . 35

Born January 28, 1786, at South Kingston, R. I.

Married Rufus Williams, of N. Stonington, Conn., Nov. 11, 1810.

They had nine children, namely:

Benjamin Adam Williams, b. Nov. 6, 1811; d. May 10, 1843, 32 yrs. old.

William B. Williams, b. Aug. 18, 1813.

Joseph B. Williams, b. July 18, 1815; d. July 18, 1839, aged 24 yrs.

Rufus Lathrop Williams, b. July 21, 1818; d. Nov. 13, 1837, 19 yrs. old.

George Williams, b. May 19, 1819.

Asa P. Williams, b. Jan. 14, 1821; d. Nov. 14, 1845, 24 yrs. old.

Thomas Williams, b. 1823; d. Sept. 14, 1844, 21 yrs. old.

John M. Williams, b. 1823; d. Sept. 24, 1825, 2 yrs. old.

Catherine Morey Williams, b. about 1825.

Catherine Browning Williams died at N. Stonington, Conn., June 28, 1870, aged 84 years, of pneumonia, and was buried at N. Stonington in the old Browning cemetery.

Catherine Browning Williams was the eldest daughter of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. She was born at S. Kingston and went with her parents to N. Stonington when her father first built the homestead there. When she was twenty-four years old she married Rufus Williams, a prominent farmer of N. Stonington, and lived on his farm about two miles from Milltown. Her son, William Williams, is a physician, and has a large family, and they live in Missouri. Another son, George, married three times, and one of his wives, either the first or second, was burned in a steamboat fire while going down the Mississippi River. His third wife was a widow (Mrs. Lovering) with one daughter when he married her. He sent the daughter to Vassar College to receive her education. He had one child, a daughter, by his third wife, called Georgia. They lived in Texas on a ranch, where his wife died first, and he afterwards. The daughter grew up, married a merchant, and in 1905 lived in Bryant, Texas. The only daughter of Catherine Browning Williams was Catherine Morey Williams, who married, first, Welcome A. Browning, and afterwards, Henry R. Edgecomb, by whom she had a son and a daughter. After her second marriage she became insane, and went to Farmington, Mo., to live with her brother William, the physician, where she lived until her death, Nov. 9, 1873. Her little boy died there also, Oct. 18, 1873. Her daughter grew up and married Mr. Lord in 1877, who lived in Lyme, Conn. She was divorced in 1883 and married John R. James. They live at New London, Conn.

Daughter of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. . 35

Born Feb. 4, 1788, at S. Kingston, R. I.

She never married.

She died February 6, 1865, at the age of 77 years, at Slocumville, R. I., and was buried at N. Stonington, Conn.

She caught cold when about four years old, and it made her quite deaf. She was usually called Polly, and lived at home until her mother's death in 1859, when Polly was about 71 years old. Then she went to live with her sister Susan at Slocumville, R. I., where she remained until her death, about 6 years later

She was a woman of lovely character, and much beloved by all her relatives. She was a great reader, and very interesting as a conversationalist. She was buried in the Browning cemetery at Preston, Conn.

ELIZABETH OR BETSY BROWNING.

Born July 1, 1792, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married Latham Hull, Esq., of Milltown, Conn., Aug. 15, 1811.

They had two children, namely:

William B. Hull, b. Nov. 7, 1815.

Latham Hull, b. Oct. 28, 1812.

Mrs. Elizabeth Browning Hull died at Kalamazoo, Mich.

She was a woman of rather small stature; was noted for piety and good works. She would never prepare any hot food on the Sabbath, but always had plenty prepared on the week day of cold meats, etc., for the Sabbath. She had two children; the eldest was Latham Hull, who married Hannah Arnold, and lived on a farm about a mile and a half west of Milltown and within a very short distance from Col. John W. Hull's old homestead, which the latter afterwards sold when he moved down to Stonington Point. The children of Latham, Jr., were, Chas. A. Hull, Edgar Hull, and a daughter, Elizabeth. The two sons went into the banking business at Independence, Ia. The younger son was killed in a cyclone by a splinter flying in the air, which entered his ear with such force that it penetrated his brain and killed him instantly. The daughter married a Mr. Dunkin and had two little girls. Latham Hull, Jr., moved to Kalamazoo, Mich., where his first wife died and he married a second time.

Squire Latham Hull was a prominent man, but much given to swearing. He almost adored his wife, whom he called Betsey, and would never swear in her presence. After his death at Milltown, his wife went with her son, Latham, Jr., to Kalamazoo, Mich. She lived there with him until her death.

Their second son, William Browning Hull, married Susan Wattles, the only child of the principal physician of Milltown, where they lived until the time of his death. They had two sons and two daughters. One of the sons, Thomas, was the proprietor of the "Mercury" newspaper, at Hartford, Conn. The other was Latham, who married and in 1905 still lived at Milltown, Conn. One of the daughters died about the time her father died, about 1890. The other, in 1905, still lived at Milltown.

SARAH BROWNING.

Daughter of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. . 35

Born August 9, 1794, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married Daniel Averill, of Groton, Conn., Nov. 21, 1813, son of Gideon and Elizabeth Averill.

They had five children, namely:

Catherine B. Averill, b. Jan. 23, 1815.

William B. Averill, b. Aug. 25, 1818.

Elizabeth M. Averill, b. April 21, 1823; d. young.

Latham Hull Averill, b. Feb. 2, 1829.

Sarah S. Averill, b. Aug. 29, 1835.

Sally Averill died Dec. 21, 1867, 71 years old, at Portage, N. Y., and her husband died April 28, 1873.

She lived in Connecticut, probably at Groton, when first married, and afterwards moved to Portage, N. Y., and lived and died there. She was christened Sarah, but called Sally. She was a twin sister of Ann Browning, who married Asa Prentice. Their daughter Elizabeth lived to be only six years old. Sarah, the youngest daughter, married Wm. A. Prentice, brother of Augustus Prentice (116), attorney, of New York City. William Prentice had one son, Edward, who is practicing law in New York City. They had one daughter, Anna, who married a Mr. Samuel Willis, and died shortly after. Sarah and William Prentice are still living (1905) on their farm at Portage, N. Y. Catherine B. Averill married Solomon Williams, of Portage, N. Y., and had two children.

ANN BROWNING.

Daughter of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. 35

Born August 9, 1794, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married Asa Prentice, Jr., son of Asa Prentice, Feb. 15, 1818, at N. Stonington, Conn.

They had five children, namely:

Asa Browning Prentice, Jr., b. Dec. 31, 1818; d. Oct. 20, 1820, about 1 year and ten mos. old.

Lucy A. M. Prentice, b. Aug. 15, 1822; d. Nov. 9, 1823, about 15 mos. old.

Catherine Browning Prentice, b. July 12, 1824; d. Nov. 8, 1847, 23 yrs. old.

Augustus Prentice, b. Sept. 30, 1826.

William Anson Prentice, b. Aug. 17, 1833.

Ann Browning Prentice died Sept. 16, 1878, at Andover, Conn., in her 85th year. She was born in the old homestead, near Preston City, Conn., and was a twin sister of Sally Browning, who married Daniel Averill. She married Asa Prentice, son of Asa Prentice, both of whom were farmers at N. Stonington, Conn. Her husband left farming and went to Norwich, Conn., and started a general store. He made an investment of about $8,000 in a sailing vessel, which was engaged in carrying merchandise to foreign ports. Mrs. Ann Prentice was one day sitting at her table all alone, when all at once and apparently without cause, a tumbler standing on the table holding water, fell to pieces, and its contents spread over the table. Mrs. Prentice exclaimed, "that's a bad omen," "something has happened to the vessel." The future revealed that at that very same time, while the vessel was returning home heavily laden with goods, a storm struck it and it foundered at sea. There was no marine insurance in those days, or at least Mr. Prentice had none, and the whole venture was a loss.

While at Norwich their eldest child, Asa Prentice, Jr., died. Mr. Prentice returned to his farm at N. Stonington, Conn.; from there he afterward moved to Bolton, Conn. Later on he went to Andover, Conn., and continued farming until his death, June 4, 1888. The two daughters, Lucy A. and Catherine, both died young; Lucy A. when a child, and Catherine when a little over twenty years of age.

The eldest living son, Augustus Prentice, married his cousin, Catherine Browning, daughter of William Browning, and lived a long time at Staten Island, N. Y., where he owned a great deal of property, including the Pavilion Hotel, and where their son, Augustus Browning Prentice, was born, about 1866. Later on they left Staten Island and moved to 7 West 81st Street, New York City, where he lived until the time of his death, Feb. 11, 1905. He was buried in his new tomb at Kensico, where his wife had been laid about two years before. His wife died at 7 West 81st Street, Feb. 2, 1903. She had been subject to rheumatism for many years, but died of a paralytic stroke. Their son, Augustus Browning Prentice, married Maud Fowler, in June, 1901, a lady of marked attainments, both as a singer and violinist, and possessed of much wealth. The son inherited about $2,000,000 from his father. He was a lawyer in New York City, practicing at 155 Broadway. He died Dec. 6, 1907. Mr. Augustus Prentice stood very high among the members of the bar.

SUSAN AUGUSTA BROWNING.

Daughter of William T. Browning and Catherine Morey. . 35

Born Nov. 8, 1810, at the old homestead, near Preston, Conn.

Married Jonathan Slocum, of Slocumville, R. I.

They had no children.

She died Jan. 9, 1901, at Slocumville, R. I., in her 91st year.

Mr. Slocum was a merchant and farmer and lived at Slocumville, R. I., the town being named after him.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Slocum were very social, and their house was a rendezvous for all the younger cousins of the Browning relatives. In stature she was straight and slim. She was a woman of remarkable memory, and it is to her memory that very many of the facts herein stated are due. It was to her that I am indebted for my love of the genealogy of the Browning family, and I often regret that she is not still living to aid me in my work. She lived until she was about 91 years of age; her sight was still good and memory clear.

THOMAS JAMES BROWNING.

Son of Jedediah Browning and Sally James. 38

I give below the genealogy of the Harrison family, showing what connection the two presidents of the United States by that name and the two mayors of Chicago by that name, have with the Browning family.

Richard Harrison came from England with four of his brothers. He settled in New Haven, Conn. In 1644 he moved to Branford, where he remained until 1653, when he died.

He had a son, Thomas Harrison, who married the widow of John Thompson. They had a son, Nathaniel Harrison, born Dec. 13, 1658, died Jan. 1, 1727. He had a son, Daniel Harrison, born Sept. 16, 1694, died in 1752. He had a son, Noah Harrison, born in 1728. He had a son, Edward Harrison, born May 1, 1768, died Jan. 4, 1867. He had a son, Noah Harrison, born Feb. 27, 1798, died in 1863; married Susan Morey, daughter of Hazard Morey. He had a daughter, Mary Lucretia Harrison, born May 9, 1837, died Sept. 13, 1899, who married the Charles Browning mentioned above.

He married Mary ———. They had a son, Benjamin, born Sept. 30, 1645, died Jan. 30, 1712, who married Hannah ———. They had a son, Benjamin, who died April 10, 1710; he married Elizabeth Burwell. They had a son, Benjamin, who lived at Berkley, Va., died in 1744; he married Ann Carter. They had a son, Benjamin, born 1726, died April 24, 1791; he married Elizabeth Bossett. He was Governor of Virginia 1782 to 1784. They had a son, William Henry Harrison, born Feb. 9, 1773, married Anna Symms, Nov. 22, 1795; was President of the United States and died in the White House. They had a son, John Scott Harrison, born Oct. 4, 1804, died May 8, 1878; married Elizabeth Irwin. They had a son, Benjamin, born Oct. 20, 1833, married Caroline Scott. He was President of the United States.

The Benjamin Harrison mentioned above as living at Berkley, Va., married Ann Carter; had a son Carter Harrison, who had a son Robert Carter Harrison, who had a son Carter Henry Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, who had a son Carter H. Harrison, Mayor of Chicago.

Noah Harrison, of Branford and Cornwall, Conn., had a son Edmund, who had a son Noah, who married Hannah Rogers, descendant of John Rogers, the first of the martyrs under "Bloody Mary," burned at the stake in Smithfield, England, Feb. 4, 1555.

The descendants of John Rogers came to America and were noted divines here. Nathaniel Rogers resided at Ipswich, Mass., and his son afterward became president of Harvard College.

Mr. Chas. Browning was a farmer and lived on his farm at Chatham, N. Y. He and his wife died and were buried there. He was a member of the Society of Friends.

They resided at Montville, Conn., but in 1905 moved to Walpole, Mass.

WILLIAM THOMAS BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Browning and Amy Prentice. 105

Born Feb. 2, 1814, at Preston, Conn.

Married Nancy Crary Avery, daughter of Amos Avery and Dolly Crary, Mar. 23, 1843.

They had five children, namely:

311. Emma Dorothea, b. Sept. 17, 1844.

312. Thomas, b. May 14, 1847.

313. Amos, b. March 20, 1850.

314. William, b. July 7, 1855.

315. Sarah Perry, b. Oct. 1, 1860.

Mr. William Thomas Browning died May 28, 1868, aged 54 years, on his farm near Preston.

His wife died May 1, 1881. Mr. Browning when a young man taught many terms in public and private schools. Later, he was engaged in farming in N. Stonington, in which he was energetic and successful. He was an active supporter of the Congregational Church at Preston City, of which he was for many years a Deacon. In politics he was a Republican. He was buried in the old Browning Cemetery, but when his wife died his body was removed to Preston City Cemetery. Overwork was the cause of his death at the age of 54 years. Mrs. Browning was a descendant through one line of ancestry of Elder Brewster, and through another line of the Rev. Mr. Noyes, the first pastor of the First Congregational Church, at Stonington, Conn., and one of the founders of Yale College.

MASON BACKUS BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Browning and Amy Prentice. 105

Born March 26, 1816, at Preston, Conn.

Married Annie Brower, daughter of John H. Brower and Anne S. Duryea, June 7, 1855.

They had three children, namely:

Benjamin B., b. March 10, 1856; d. April 10, 1856, one mo. old.

316. John H. Brower, b. Oct. 27, 1857.

317. Amy Prentice, b. March 17, 1862.

Mason Backus Browning died Jan. 8, 1865, of consumption, in New York City, being nearly 49 years of age. His wife died March 28, 1908.

Mr. Browning was in the boot and shoe business in New York. He was taken ill, and went South for the benefit of his health, doing business for a time at Galveston, Texas. The war caused him to return to the North, and the climate here being so much colder brought on the illness which caused his death. He was a very affable, intelligent gentleman, and had acquired a good deal of experience by his intercourse with a large number of persons.

MARY PRENTICE BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Browning and Amy Prentice. 105

They had no children.

Mrs. Osgood died Nov. 16, 1845, when only 24 years of age. She was buried at Norwich, Conn.

241

Daughter of Thomas Browning and Amy Prentice. . . . 105

Born July 21, 1821, at Preston, Conn.

She never married.

Died May 16, 1893, at Norwich, Conn., of paralysis, being 72 years of age.

In early life she was threatened with consumption and spent winters partly in Florida, partly in Galveston, Texas, where her brother Mason lived. On her way to and from the South she used to spend some time visiting at my father's house and she endeared herself to us all by her gentle, lovable manners, and sweetness of disposition. She quite recovered from all her tendency toward consumption and lived to the good old age of 72. I stood by her open grave in the cemetery at Norwich, where she was buried, beside her sisters Sarah and Adelaide.

ELIZABETH HULL BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Browning and Amy Prentice. . . . 105

Born Feb. 11, 1824, at Preston, Conn.

Married Rev. George A. Bryan, May 8, 1877, at Norwich, Conn.

They had no children.

The Rev. George A. Bryan graduated at New Haven, preached 11 years at West Haven, then at Westbrook, then at Preston, Conn. He left the latter place in 1884, going to Wapping, Conn. From there he went to Scotland, Conn., his last pastorate. He is living now at Norwich, Conn., having retired from the active work of the ministry, being about 86 years old. He is connected with the Congregational Church.

His wife still lives with him at Norwich. She is noted for her gentle manners, and much beloved by her friends.

FRANCES ADELIA BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Browning and Amy Prentice. . . . 105

Born Dec. 28, 1825, at Preston, Conn.

She never married.

She died Feb. 4, 1848, when 23 years of age, at her father's house at Preston, Conn. She was buried in the Browning Cemetery at Preston, Conn.

244

WILLIAM FRANKLIN BROWNING.

Son of William Browning and Eliza Ann Averill. . . . 106

Married, first, Frances Giddings, of Kalamazoo, Mich.

second, Mary A. Hamblin, of Oxford, Me., in March, 1872.

They had no children.

As a young man he was quite fleshy, weighing about 200 pounds. While he lived at Gales Ferry, Conn., he clerked in his father's store. Afterwards he moved to Kalamazoo, Mich., where he married his first wife. He was generally known as Frank Browning. He left Kalamazoo and went to Flint, Mich., where he did a general store business. He died in Michigan and was buried at Kalamazoo.

245

OREN FOGLE BROWNING.

Son of William Browning and Eliza Ann Averill. 106

Born Dec., 1838, at Gales Ferry, Conn.

Married Mary Gertrude Clarkson, of New Brighton, S. I., Oct. 17, 1859.

They had fourteen children, namely:

- 427. Louisa Margaret, b. Sept. 7, 1860.
- 318. William Slocum, b. Dec. 19, 1861.
- 319. Eliza G., b. Aug. 27, 1863.
- 320. Bertram C., b. Sept. 29, 1865.
Jessie, b. about 1867, died in infancy.
- 321. Ella B., b. April 8, 1868.
- 322. Jessie M., b. April 7, 1870.
- 323. Oren Fogle, Jr., b. Dec. 12, 1872.
- 324. Edward Franklin, b. Aug. 1, 1873.
- 428. Florence, b. Oct. 26, 1874.
- 429. Dudley, b. Sept. 5, 1877.
- 430. Dora, b. July 3, 1878.
- 325. Annie Prentice, b. Jan. 14, 1880.
- 326. Mary Low, b. Dec. 10, 1882.

Oren Fogle Browning died Sept. 12, 1899, at Rahway, N. J., in his 61st year.

He was educated at Gales Ferry and in N. Stonington, Conn. Afterwards he came to Staten Island, N. Y., and entered the study of law, in the office of his brother-in-law Augustus Prentice, 155 Broadway, New York. He was admitted to the bar and practiced law in New York City. Later on he purchased a house at Metuchen, N. J., and moved from Staten Island, (New Brighton), to that place. He resided there until the time of his death. He enjoyed excellent health and retired on the night of his death apparently as well as usual. In the morning when they entered his room they found him dead in his bed, he had probably been stricken with apoplexy. He was an active man of rather short stature and slight build. He was noted for having two thumbs on one hand. Each of these thumbs was perfect in itself, but they were joined together at their base so they moved together without much individual motion. He was buried at Metuchen, N. J., where his widow still lives with several of her children. Louisa Margaret Browning is unmarried, and lives at home with her mother. Florence Browning is single, is a very handsome, attractive lady, and teaches school at Metuchen. Dudley Browning is still single and lives at home with his mother. Dora Browning is still single, she is a very bright young lady, has received an excellent education. She studied medicine and graduated at the New York Hospital.

ABBY ELIZA BROWNING.

Daughter of William Browning and Eliza Ann Averill. . . . 106

Born about 1829, at Gales Ferry, Conn.

She never married.

She lived at home with her parents at Gales Ferry, until they moved to Kalamazoo, Mich. After their death and burial at Kalamazoo, Mich., she returned East and lived for a while at Preston City and then at Staten Island, and also in New York City. She died in New York City, May 28, 1899, about 70 years old. At her request, her body was taken back to Kalamazoo and laid beside her parents.

247

CATHERINE AUGUSTA BROWNING.

Daughter of William Browning and Eliza Ann Averill. . . . 106

Born Jan. 4, 1833, at Gales Ferry, Conn.

Married her first cousin, Augustus Prentice, June 22, 1855, at Gales Ferry, Conn.

They had one child, namely:

Augustus Browning Prentice, b. Jan. 30, 1866; married Maud Fowler.

Mrs. Catherine Augusta Browning Prentice died at her home, 7 West 81st Street, New York, Feb. 2, 1903, aged 70 years. Her husband died at the same address, Feb. 11, 1905.

They were both buried in their new tomb at Kensico Cemetery on the northern boundary of New York City. This tomb Mr. Prentice had just finished for himself and wife containing only one sarcophagus, just for themselves, covered with a huge stone of many tons weight.

When they were first married, they moved down to Staten Island, and Mr. Prentice purchased a large farm there. He also owned a good deal of property at New Brighton, including the Pavilion Hotel and about a dozen houses on the Heights near St. Marks Hotel. He lived in one of these houses for many years, and then moved to New York City, into house 7 West 81st Street, which he finished in very elegant style. When Mr. Prentice was a young man he was threatened with consumption and spent a number of winters South in Florida with very beneficial effects to his health. He was a hard student and a lawyer of large practice. And he won many distinguished suits. He invested his gains mostly in tenement property in New York City, and became very wealthy. His wife was troubled in her later years with rheumatism, and was confined to her home. She died of apoplexy in her 81st Street home. Mr. Prentice enjoyed excellent health until a few months before the time of his death. Then he was troubled with cataracts and submitted to an operation and had the cataract removed from one eye. This seemed to affect his health and his mind, and he gradually sank away until death relieved his suffering. He left a large estate, amounting to several millions of dollars. His will gave small sums to a good many of his relatives, but the most of his property he left to his son.

Their son Augustus Browning Prentice was a man of large build and commanding presence. He was subject to nervous trouble in childhood, but apparently gained perfect health as he advanced to manhood. He married a very estimable lady, Miss Maud Fowler, possessed of large wealth and highly accomplished, being an excellent singer and very skillful with the violin. After Mr. Augustus Prentice's death the care of so much wealth affected the nerves and the mind of the son to such an extent that he had to be committed to the charge of keepers. By profession he was a lawyer and succeeded to his father's business. He died Dec. 6, 1907, and is buried in Kensico Cemetery.

ELEANORA MARY BROWNING.

Daughter of William Browning and Eliza Ann Averill. . . . 106
Born in January, 1841, at Gales Ferry, Conn.
She never married.

She was educated in Connecticut, but when her parents moved to Kalamazoo, Mich., she went with them and remained there until after their death. Then she returned east, and lived at New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y. She also spent part of her time at Preston, Conn., but now she resides in New York City, and spends her time in literary pursuits and in doing good works.

ELIZABETH BROWNING.

They had one child, namely:
Bertha Low, b. Nov. 13, 1874.

Mr. Low was connected with the great tea house of A. A. Low & Co., and lived at the time of his marriage at New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y. Afterwards he went into the banking business and moved with his family to San Francisco, Cal. After remaining there a number of years he returned to New York City, and has divided his time between New York and San Francisco. At present they reside at Morristown, N. J. Mrs. Low is an elegant lady. When seven years old she showed remarkable memory in being able to spell correctly every word in DeBall's Spelling Book.

WILLIAM CHARLES BROWNING.

Son of John Hazard Browning and Eliza Smith Hull. . . . 108

Born Nov. 13, 1833, in New York City.

Married Adelaide Scott, daughter of John D. Scott and Nancy Updyke, Nov. 18, 1861, in New York City.

They had four children, namely:

327. John Scott, b. Aug. 31, 1863.

Adelaide Scott, b. about 1864; d. about 1869, when 5 years old.

328. William Hull, b. Jan. 22, 1865.

329. Henry King, b. Nov. 19, 1869.

William Charles Browning died Aug. 3, 1904, aged 71 years, at his summer home in the Thousand Islands, N. Y., of paralysis. He was born at 25 Gouverneur Street, in New York City, on Nov. 13, 1833, the night when the whole sky was luminous with a meteoric shower. He was educated in New York City, and when about 17 years old, went into a bank for about two years, and then went with his father in the clothing business, sending goods to California. A little later on, he started with his father and John E. Hanford, in the clothing business in Barclay Street. Afterwards he started the firm of William C. Browning & Co., the company being composed of his two brothers, Edward F. and J. Hull Browning. Later on the firm became Browning, King & Co., under which style it still continues, being managed by his three sons, John Scott, William H. and Henry K. Browning. They have some sixteen or seventeen branches in the principal cities of the United States, and do the largest clothing manufacturing business in the world. During the Civil War they were among the principal manufacturers of army goods for the Government.

Mr. Browning married Adelaide Scott, daughter of John D. Scott, who was a clothing merchant, manufacturing in New York, but shipping his goods to New Orleans and selling them there. Her mother was Nancy Updyke, a sister of George Updyke, who was at one time Mayor of the City of New York. Mr. Browning was noted as a very active man and was often called one of the hardest working men in the City of New York. He was a member of the Union League Club, a Director in the Mercantile Bank, Vice-President of the East and West Railroad of Alabama, a Director of the Richmond County Gas Co., and connected with many other institutions. He erected one of the first brownstone residences on Fifth Avenue, in the vicinity of 45th Street, which remains there to-day, and is known as 552 Fifth Avenue, where he lived nearly all his married life. He was very fond of flowers and is said to have one of the finest Summer homes on the St. Lawrence River. He was a very genial man with a large circle of friends and left a large fortune to his widow and children. He is buried in Greenwood Cemetery, in a new vault just finished before his death, and said to be one of the finest there. He was a Vestryman of Holy Trinity Church, New York City, and his death was a great loss to his church, and to his numerous friends.

Born June 21, 1837, in New York City.

Married Lucy A. Richardson, daughter of Rev. Albert G. Richardson and Lucy Neisley, of Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 24, 1870.

They had two children, namely:

330. Lucy Florence, b. Feb. 28, 1871.

331. Edward West, b. Oct. 16, 1874.

Edward Franklin Browning, the writer, was born at 25 Gouverneur Street, New York City, on the date above mentioned, and resided in said city all his life, with the exception of two years, when his parents moved, one year to Orange, and the next to Newark, N. J., and then back to New York City. He was fitted for college in the George P. Quackenbosh Institute, and entered Columbia College in the year 1854, then in the old King's College Building, on College Place. In his junior year, the college was moved to the Deaf and Dumb Institute Building on the corner of Madison Avenue and 49th Street. He graduated in 1859 and received the degree of Master of Arts in 1862. After graduating, he went into the clothing business with his two brothers under the firm name of William C. Browning & Co. He remained in this firm and the firm of Browning, King & Co., until 1886, about 24 years, when he retired on account of failing eyesight, which continued increasing until he became totally blind. He consulted many oculists, but without success. He inherited a love of genealogy from his Aunt Susan Slocum, who supplied him with many of the facts noted in this volume. He was President of the East and West Railroad of Alabama, and Director in many banks and other institutions.

His wife was the daughter of Albert G. Richardson, a Methodist minister, who came from Cincinnati, O., to New York City about 1853. Her sister, Mrs. William B. Shattuck, wife of the banker of that name, was prominently known in New York society. Her sister, Cora Richardson, is a well-known artist, who has painted the portraits of many prominent people.

Mr. Browning's wife was a great sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism the last six years of her life. During that period she was compelled to lie in one position, and could not turn to the right or the left. Her suffering was beyond description, and it was aggravated very much by an incurable X-ray burn at the hands of one of her attending physicians. She died July 15, 1904, and is buried in the Browning family burying ground in Greenwood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. E. F. Browning studied the piano under Martin A. Sarles and others, and thorough bass and counterpoint under George F. Bristow.

In 1863 Mr. Browning was drafted for active service in the Civil War, at the same time James Browning, of Manchester, England, came over to this country for the express purpose of going into the Northern Army. Mr. E. F. Browning having applied to an agency for a substitute, was introduced to this Mr. James Browning, and engaged him to take his place, paying him the usual amount paid for such service at that time, namely $300. He entered Company F, 83rd Regiment of New York State Volunteers. He served in the army for some time, was in many engagements, and was wounded in a battle in South Carolina, and left for dead on the field. A Southern soldier came along and was about to plunge his bayonet into him, when a Southern officer swore at him and arrested his act. After the soldiers had all gone, James Browning crawled to a negro cabin, where they nursed and took care of him until he was able to walk. Then they dressed him in negro clothing and he managed to get to the sea coast, where he hailed a passing vessel, which took him on board and brought him back to New York City. After remaining there a few days he again went into the army and went to the front fighting till the war was over. On June 28, 1865, he was honorably discharged at New York City. He had acquired such a liking for the army, however, that he again enlisted as a member of the Regular Army, and served for several years until his death of fever at Nashville, Tenn.

ANN ELIZABETH BROWNING.

Daughter of John Hazard Browning and Eliza Smith Hull. . 108

Born Feb. 13, 1839, in New York City.

Married Amos G. West, Dec. 18, 1861, in New York City.

They had no children.

Died Oct. 16, 1873, aged 34 years.

Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Browning West was a handsome lady, of light complexion and blue eyes, and was usually called "Lillie." She was highly educated, and resided at home with her parents at 94th Street and Park Avenue, New York City, until her marriage. After that, she resided part of the time at Cedartown, Ga., and part of the time in New York. She suffered much during her last illness, occasioned by Brights' Disease, until near the time of her death, which was very peaceful and happy. She died at her father's residence, 94th Street and Park Avenue, and was buried in Greenwood.

Her husband, Amos G. West, was a manufacturer of Colt's revolvers, and Sharp's rifles, at Hartford, Conn. After his marriage, he joined his father-in-law in building up the iron works at Columbiana, Alabama, which had been destroyed by Sherman's Army. He sold out there, and in 1874 built the Cherokee Iron Works, at Cedartown, Ga. He was also one of the builders of the East and West Railroad of Alabama. He resided at Cedartown, until his death, Aug. 2, 1892. He was buried in Greenwood Cemetery, beside his wife, in the Browning burial plot.

JOHN HULL BROWNING.

Son of John Hazard Browning and Eliza Smith Hull. . . . 108

Born Dec. 25, 1842, at Orange, N. J.

Married Oct. 19, 1871, Eva B. Sisson, daughter of Charles G. Sisson and Elizabeth Garrabrant.

He had one child, namely:

332. John Hull, Jr., b. Oct. 6, 1874, at Tenaflly, N. J.

Mr. John Hull Browning was the youngest and fourth son of John Hazard Browning, for many years one of the principal dry goods merchants of New York City. He was born in Orange, N. J., on Christmas Day, 1842. His parents resided at Orange only one year and then the whole family returned to New York City, where Mr. Browning was brought up and educated, attending the University of New York City.

In 1862, he was taken into partnership by his two elder brothers under the firm name of William C. Browning & Co. They did a wholesale clothing business at 326 Broadway, where they remained for many years, until they moved to 502-4 Broadway.

In 1883, the firm of William C. Browning & Co. went out of business, and Mr. Browning gave his attention more particularly to the managing of railroads, gas companies and banking. His father-in-law, Mr. Charles G. Sisson, was noted as one of the founders of the Erie Railroad, and the builder of the Northern Railroad of New Jersey, which runs from Jersey City to Nyack. On the death of Mr. Sisson, Mr. Browning was made his successor as President of the Northern Railroad of New Jersey, which office he held until quite recently, when he sold the road to the Erie Railroad Co. Mr. Browning was also President for many years of the Richmond County Gas Co., until that company was sold out to the New York & Richmond Gas Co.

Mr. Browning was Secretary and Treasurer of the East and West Railroad of Alabama, from the time it was built until it was sold to Mr. Eugene Kelly. Mr. Browning was also Treasurer of the Cherokee Iron Co., of Cedartown, Ga., for many years, until it was sold to the Alabama & Georgia Iron Co.

Mr. Browning has been a large contributor and Director of Christ Hospital, Jersey City, and he and his wife built "Fresh Air Home," at Tenaflly, for the purpose of giving recreation and fresh air to a large number of children from the Sunday Schools of New York City. These children are taken to the Home for a vacation of two weeks, and every proper comfort and care is given them for their health and enjoyment free of all expense. As soon as one set of children has ended its vacation, another is sent forward to take its place, and in this way the Home is kept full during the whole season.

Mr. Browning's Summer home at Tenaflly is considered one of the finest in Northern New Jersey; and is particularly noted for the extent of its grounds and the beauty of its flowers. His Winter residence is 31 West 53rd Street, New York City.

Mrs. Browning is a lady of marked beauty and refinement, and widely known for her generosity and good deeds. She spends much of her time in the active management of hospitals and other benevolent institutions, and is much beloved by a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Browning has always affiliated with the Republican Party and aided it with both his time and purse. For many years he was President of the Bergen County League, the leading Republican organization in New Jersey. Three times he has been elected Presidential Elector for the State of New Jersey. Many times he has been offered the nomination for the United States Senatorship, but he has always refused on account of the pressure of his personal business. His energy and business sagacity have won him large success, and his generosity and affability have made him an almost universal favorite.

HENRY L. BROWNING.

Son of Latham H. Browning and Emeline Wheeler. . . . 109

Born June 28, 1832, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married Joanna N. Hutchings, daughter of Sidney and Catherine Hutchings, of New York City, Nov. 27, 1860.

They had two children, namely:

432. Lucy Wheeler, b. March 19, 1863.

333. Henry L., Jr., b. Jan. 10, 1865.

For many years Mr. Browning was a merchant in New York in the piece-goods business. Recently he has gone back to Stonington, Conn., and is engaged in farming there.

255

AMOS W. BROWNING.

Son of Latham H. Browning and Emeline Wheeler. . . . 109

Born July 3, 1835, at N. Stonington, Conn.

He never married.

Died Oct. 24, 1863, aged 28 years.

Mr. Browning was in business in Lancaster, Texas, as general merchant. He expressed his views too freely and was shot in his own store. He recovered from this, however, and went with a friend to Mexico. One day he went to catch his horse which was grazing in tall, wet grass. He became wet through and through, and death resulted from the exposure, near Tampico, Mexico, Oct. 24, 1863.

256

JAMES BROWNING.

Son of Latham H. Browning and Emeline Wheeler. . . . 109

Born Jan. 6, 1840, at N. Stonington, Conn.

He never married.

He was in business with his brother Henry, in New York City, in the cloth business, and afterward went into the real estate business himself. Within the past few years he returned to Stonington and is engaged in farming there.

257

THOMAS L. BROWNING.

Son of Latham H. Browning and Emeline Wheeler. . . . 109

Born Feb. 28, 1842, at N. Stonington, Conn.

He never married.

He was in business with his brothers in New York City, cloth merchants. He then went into the real estate business, but afterwards returned to Stonington, and is engaged in farming.

258

LUCY WHEELER BROWNING.

Daughter of Latham H. Browning and Emeline Wheeler. . . . 109

Born Dec. 22, 1837, at N. Stonington, Conn.

Married Thomas W. Palmer, of N. Stonington, Conn., Jan. 9, 1867.

They had no children.

Mr. Palmer was engaged in farming. He lived about two miles from Stonington Point, on the road to N. Stonington, and later at the Palmer homestead at Stonington Point, where he died a few years ago.

Mrs. Lucy Browning Palmer is an energetic woman, highly esteemed by many friends. She was received into the Cross Roads Church, by the Rev. Paul Couch, Dec. 13, 1868. She is now living with her three brothers on the old Palmer farm.

OREN FOGLE BROWNING.

Son of Oren Treat Browning and Eleanor Fogle. . . . 110

Born May 18, 1841, at Canton, O.

Married Frances C. Roane, June, 1882. She was a native of Canton, Ohio.

They had two children, namely:

433. Mary Frances, b. Dec. 25, 1884.

434. Anna Catherine, b. Dec. 16, 1886.

Mr. Browning was in business with his father in both the general merchandise business and in running a large flour mill. After his father's death he continued in the mercantile business, but gave up the flour mill. His wife died in August, 1904. Mr. Browning and his two daughters still reside at Canton, O.

ANNIE CATHERINE BROWNING.

Daughter of Oren Treat Browning and Frances McTaggart. . 110
 Born Sept. 7, 1854, at Canton, O.

Married Dr. George V. Foster, Sept. 1, 1880.

They have no children.

Dr. Geo. V. Foster is a celebrated physician of the old school. His father was named George Foster, and his mother Clara Vickery, and he was born at Westerly, R. I. Mr. George Foster, the father, early in life moved out west and married Miss Clara Vickery, in Detroit, Mich. Afterward he came back to Long Island and started what is now known as the Long Island Express. He also owned a beautiful place at Glen Cove, L. I. He left one son, Geo. V., and two daughters, who married Perrys, one of whom lives at Westerly and the other in Boston. Dr. Geo. V. Foster's grandmother was a niece of Catherine Morey Browning, so Dr. Foster is a distant relative of his wife. They live at present in New York City, at the Florence Hotel. In addition to a large medical practice, Dr. Foster takes charge of a large amount of real estate inherited from his father, or more recently purchased by himself. His wife is a very refined lady, of elegant manners, and is highly esteemed by her numerous friends. In early life her health was quite delicate, and it was while Dr. Foster was attending her as her physician that he learned to appreciate her merits and made her his wife.

FRANKLIN MOREY BROWNING.

Son of Benjamin Franklin Browning and Marianne J. Forbes. 111
 Born Feb. 28, 1848, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Claire Forbes Hammond, b. Sept. 21, 1873.

This daughter Claire is a graduate of Smith College, and is an accomplished lady. She married, Dec. 27, 1900, Herbert Wilbur Rand, Ph. D., at Detroit, Mich. Mr. Rand is now one of the faculty of Harvard College. They reside at Cambridge, Mass., and have two children, Henry Forbes Rand, b. July 13, 1902, and Dorothy Garrison Rand, b. Feb. 7, 1904.

Mrs. Hammond and her sister, Miss Laura Browning, were proprietors and principals of Detroit Seminary, at Detroit, Mich., a large and high class girls' school. Mrs. Hammond instructed in history of art and English literature.

LAURA COLEMAN BROWNING.

Daughter of Benjamin Franklin Browning and Marianne J. Forbes. III

Born April 21, 1853, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

She never married.

She received a fine education, is a graduate of Houghton Seminary, N. Y., and of the New York University. She spent two years in Paris and the continent in travel and study. In 1897, she and her sister, Mrs. Hammond, became proprietors and principals of Detroit Seminary. This school had a faculty of fifteen instructors. Miss Browning instructed in Latin and Psychology, and ranked among the foremost educators in the state of Michigan. In June, 1906, Miss Browning and her sister sold the school and came to New York.

264

DR. ALBERT G. BROWNING.

Son of Thos. James Browning and Emily Burnham. . . . 118

Born Aug. 1, 1838, at Woodstock, Conn.

Married Sarah E. Arnold, of Woodstock, Nov. 25, 1863.

They had three children, namely:

Hattie E., b. Sept. 18, 1865; d. July 22, 1866, about 10 mos. old.

Frank A., b. Feb. 16, 1867; d. Sept. 6, 1867, about 7 mos. old.

Alice G., b. Sept. 14, 1872; d. Jan. 20, 1878, 5 yrs. 4 mos. old.

Doctor Browning acquired a good English education at the well known academy in his native town. He taught school several years and then studied medicine, graduating from the Yale Medical School in 1863. During the Civil War he was an assistant surgeon.

At the close of the war he established himself and practiced at Olneyville, R. I. After a trip to California for his health, he resumed the practice of his profession at Providence, R. I. He died at that place April 5, 1888. The following article is taken from the "Transactions of the R. I. Medical Society," of which he was a member: "Dr. Browning was a man of strong personality, having his likes and his dislikes. He was honest and straightforward in all his dealings, detesting fraud and quackery; aside from his skill and experience as a medical man, he was well read in current literature, especially the political history of the country. He was a zealous politician, taking an active part in the political campaigns of the day. Somewhat abrupt and blunt in his way of speaking, sharp and sarcastic in his criticism of the topics of the day, Dr. Browning had none of the suave and persuasive accomplishments which reap transient popularity. One had to know him to appreciate his worth. He was warm hearted and generous and ever ready to give his services to the sick and poor when they desired his attention."

MARY L. BROWNING.

LUCY FLORENCE BROWNING.

Daughter of Edward Franklin Browning and Lucy A. Richardson. 251

Born Feb. 28, 1871, at 54 West 45th Street, New York City.

Married Dr. George Patten Biggs, son of David Simmons Biggs, and Anna Susannah Camp, April 14, 1898, at Doctor Hall's Church, Fifth Avenue and 55th Street, New York City.

They have one child, namely:

George Browning Biggs, b. April 8, 1900, at 39 East 63rd Street, New York City.

Dr. George P. Biggs was the third son of David Simmons Biggs and Anna Susannah Camp. He was born at Trumansburg, N. Y., on Lake Cayuga, a few miles above Ithaca, Oct. 26, 1867. He grew up at Trumansburg, and received his early education there. A little later he went to New York City, where his cousin, Dr. Hermann Biggs, had already acquired renown. He devoted himself to the study of medicine and graduated from the Bellevue Hospital Medical College in 1889. He is Pathologist of the New York Hospital, and of the Board of Health of the City of New York. He was a member of the Faculty and lectured in the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons. He is in charge of the production of Anti-toxine for the cure of diphtheria. He has under his charge forty horses from which the blood is taken for serum for the manufacture of Anti-toxine. After his marriage he and his wife moved into their house number 39 E. 63rd Street, a gift from her father, and a little later moved to 133 W. 71st Street, where they now reside.

They attend the Manhattan Congregational Church, of which they are members. Mrs. Lucy Florence Browning Biggs is gifted with a fine memory, being able to read over quite a lengthy poem and then recite it and retain it for years. She is a very charming and vivacious lady.

EDWARD WEST BROWNING

Son of Edward Franklin Browning and Lucy A. Richardson. 251
Born Oct. 16, 1874, at 54 West 50th Street, New York City.

He resides now with his father, at 18 West 75th Street, and is unmarried. He received his education in New York City, but early showed a preference for business life. After his father left the firm of Browning, King & Co., his son went into the real estate business in connection with his father, and has devoted himself to the study and management of New York real estate. He has been prospered and owns many fine buildings, of which he takes a general oversight.

He has a natural gift for drawing and designing, and often entertains his friends with his humorous sketches and with legerdemain. He is a favorite in the social world.

It stood unoccupied for many years, and was torn down in 1835. In 1840, Mr. John Peckham bought the property and erected another building on the site of the old one.

On April 13, 1752, Mr. William Browning bought of Latham Clarke, a tract of 300 acres for 4,000 pounds sterling. Aug. 17, 1724, it is recorded as follows: "William Browning; His ear mark is a crop on the left ear, and two half peaneys behind the right ear. Brand is thus on the right buttuck."

First Marriage Certificate—Portsmouth, in the Colony of Rhode Island, etc., December the 7th, 1721. "These may certify all persons that there was William Browning, of Kingston, and Mary Freelove, of Portsmouth, lawfully joined together in marriage by me, WILLIAM SANFORD, Justice."

Second Marriage Certificate—"William Browning, of S. Kingston, and Mary Wilkinson, of ye Town of Westerly, and both of ye Colony of Rhode Island, appeared in Westerly, this 5 day of Aug., 1728, and were lawfully joined together in ye Honorable State of Matrimony by me, GEORGE BABCOCK."

Mr. William Browning became a large land owner. On June 24, 1728, he received a deed from his father, for the consideration of 600 pounds sterling, 250 acres adjoining the Westerly Town line. In 1741, Samuel Browning, his brother, conveyed to him 320 acres with dwelling house, price 1,070 pounds and 10 shillings. He received 250 acres under his father's will. To his son Wilkinson he conveyed 100 acres in 1755; to his son Joseph, 125 acres in 1762; and to his son William, Jr., 320 acres in 1761. His residence in 1728 was in N. Kingston, R. I., but he became a resident of S. Kingston as early as 1741, which town continued to be his place of residence until his death.

The family Bible purchased by Mr. Browning in 1739, is now in possession of his great-great-grandson, William Browning, of Plymouth, N. Y. This interesting book contains the earliest contemporaneous family Bible record of descendants of Nathaniel Browning known to be in existence. And although printed in London as early as 1712, it is in a good state of preservation.

Mr. William Browning's will, proved March 8, 1773, is an interesting document. It gives the real estate to the sons, according to custom, the eldest receiving the better portion. It provides for the widow's support with considerable detail, not forgetting that she might have need, in those early days before the stage-coach, car, steam or electricity, of a horse to ride.

The inventory and appraisal show the value placed on slave property. By the will, the widow was given the use of the house where the testator lived and three acres of land, the use of the household furniture, and of two negroes, Beriah and Bristol, while she remained his widow. She also took absolutely one-fifth of the remaining personal property, excepting farming tools, and she was to be yearly provided with 30 bushels of Indian Corn, 4 bushels of Wheat, 200 pounds of Beef, 150 pounds of Pork, 40 pounds of Wool, 20 pounds of Flax, and 15 Cords of Fire Wood, to be furnished by sons William and Joseph. She was to have three cows kept for her in summer by William, and in winter by Joseph; and Joseph was also to provide a gentle beast for her to ride whenever she had occasion.

To his son William, the executor, were given the Homestead, excepting 100 acres on the West, and certain other lands, one-half the farming tools, and the Negro Cæsar.

To Joseph were given 100 acres of the Homestead and 163 acres in Charlestown, besides half the farming tools.

To the five children of son John, deceased, were given land in Richmond.

To son Wilkinson were given the Horse Shoe Meadow, the remainder of the real estate, and the Negro Abraham.

To the daughters, Dinah, Ruth and Tabitha, and the children of Mary, deceased, was given the remainder of the personalty in equal shares. The inventory of the personal estate amounted to 1,279 pounds, 15 shillings and 4 pence. It consisted of 598 pounds, 4 shillings, 3-4 pence in cash, wearing apparel valued at 15 pounds, 12 shillings, 9 pence; negro Bristol, appraised at 30 pounds; negro Abraham, 30 pounds; boy Cæsar, 37; 14 cows, 2 yoke of oxen, 3 pair of steers, 9 young cattle, sorrel horse, mare and colt, 3 barrels of cider, keg of wine, gun, farming and carpenter's tools, etc.

WILLIAM BROWNING, JR.

Son of William Browning and Mary Freelove. 600

Born Nov. 28, 1724, at S. Kingston, R. I.

Married June 26, 1755, Mrs. Elizabeth Tripp Lawton.

They had six children, namely:

609. William, b. April 21, 1756.

610. Christopher, b. Sept. 25, 1758.

611. Stephen, b. Sept. 5, 1760.

612. Rebecca, b. March 13, 1762.

613. Elizabeth, b. Dec. 22, 1765.

614. Amy, b. Feb. 15, 1769.

Died Feb. 25, 1796, in his 72d year; his widow died Sept. 17, 1798, in her 73d year.

Mr. William Browning, Jr., was a farmer. His wife was the widow of Captain Christopher Lawton. Mr. Browning was made a Freeman in May, 1746, and Justice of Peace, May, 1759-60. By his father's will he took the homestead, excepting 100 acres upon the west. By will he gave his wife the use of the household furniture and one-third of the real estate. His eldest son, William, received that portion of the homestead farm lying south of the Post Road, (excepting 30 acres given to Stephen on which the latter then resided), and 60 acres of wood land.

Stephen was given in addition to the 30 acres above referred to, the island in Salt Pond, in Charlestown, 60 acres of woodland and $50 to be paid by William.

Christopher took the remaining land. Amy, (some times called Anna,) was given 12 cows, and shared with her sister, Mrs. Segar, the personal estate, excepting the farming implements, which were given to the sons. Mr. Browning owned a large tract of land, the Southern portion of which is now owned and occupied by his great-grandson, George W. Browning. His Bible, containing a valuable family record, was for many years in the possession of his great-grandson, T. W. Segar, of Westerly, R. I., recently deceased.

- 660. Thomas Hoxie, b. June 19, 1808.
- 661. Arnold, b. Oct. 15, 1810.

Mr. Browning died March 21, 1820, in his 58th year.

By his will, Mr. Browning gave his eldest son John forty acres on the north side of the house farm and fifteen acres of wood land. Hazard took forty acres next south and an equal tract of wood land. The remainder of the homestead, about thirty-seven acres, Gardner's Island, and twenty acres of wood land were given to Arnold. Potter received the Gould lot and seventeen acres of wood land, besides "the land I deeded to him to make him a voter by the Salt Pond." To Hoxie were given sixty-seven acres with dwelling house thereon and seventeen acres of marsh. Each of the daughters, Susannah, Martha, Elizabeth and Abigail, received $1,000, payment of the same being charged on the land. The widow was given a life estate in part of the dwelling house, the household furniture, forty dollars per year in money, all the meat, corn and provisions necessary for the support of herself and any unmarried children, besides a cord of oak wood yearly from each of her sons. Mrs. Browning was a sister of Samuel J. Potter, at one time Lieutenant Governor of the State of Rhode Island. The old house where Mr. and Mrs. Browning lived at Matunuck, is still standing. He was Ensign Company 1, S. Kingston, Regiment 3, May, 1795; made Captain, June, 1796.

Mr. Browning died at Garden Grove, Iowa, June 12, 1875, in his 83d year.

His widow died July 29, 1894, in her 91st year.

Early in life Mr. Browning was a clothier and a woolen manufacturer at Green Hill, R. I. In 1837 the factory was destroyed by fire, which, together with the depreciation of the stock on hand, occasioned the loss of his property. In 1840 he removed with his family to Onondaga, N. Y., and in 1851 to Groton, Ohio. In 1859 he removed to Garden Grove, Iowa, which became the future home of the family. He and his wife united with the Baptist Church at Wakefield, R. I., in 1828. His daughter Ruth writes of him as follows: "There was a truth, and faith, and love about him which was very beautiful and an inspiration of itself."

Mrs. Browning was born in North Stonington, Conn., and later with her father's family went to live in Stonington. She was a witness, it is said, of the bombardment of Stonington Point by the British fleet under Sir Thomas Hardy. Her father was a soldier of the Revolution. When she was sixteen years of age the family removed to their attractive home at Lisbon, Conn. She was a woman of earnest Christian life, and after the removal to Iowa became connected with the Presbyterian Church. She was the owner of an old Bible, lately in possession of William Rushmore (No. 51), which was given her by her grandmother, Catherine Guinedeau, wife of Robert Morey. This highly prized volume, according to the family tradition, was brought from France by Mrs. Morey's father upon returning from a visit to his native land. Besides the Browning family record, it contains several generations of Huguenot ancestry. The first entry is under date of 1710.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning celebrated their golden wedding on November 29, 1871.

Mr. Browning was ensign, N. Kingston Guards, 1811, and a little later was made Second Lieutenant.

WILLIAM STANTON BROWNING.

Son of William Tripp Browning and Mary Card. 626

Born Nov. 28, 1810, at South Kingston, R. I.

Married Nov. 21, 1838, Susan Browning, (see No. 97), daughter of the Hon. Welcome A. Browning.

They had seven children, namely:

798. Jeannette C., b. Dec. 24, 1846.

799. Martha Tripp, b. about 1848.

800. Welcome A., b. about 1850.

801. Martha Tripp, 2d, b. about 1852.

802. Rowland R., b. about 1854.

803. Martha Jennie, b. about 1856.

804. Lillian, b. in 1860.

Mr. Browning died Dec., 1878, aged 68 years.

Mr. Browning was named after his father Stanton, and his uncle. He was a farmer, and the only son of the family that grew to manhood, but he had four sisters. He was of medium size, light hair and complexion, and blue eyes. He was a great help to his father in business. When 28 years of age he married Susan Browning, of N. Stonington, Conn. Soon after his marriage he was baptized and joined the church at Wakefield, R. I., his wife taking a letter from the Jewett City Presbyterian Church, and joining with him. They afterwards took their letters to Perryville, and formed a new church there, of fifteen members. A house of worship was built, and he was clerk and chorister for many years. His wife's health being very poor they moved to Lisbon, Conn., in 1856, purchased a farm which they called Shady Lawn, and there educated their daughter, the last of their seven children.

In the Civil War, the Town of Lisbon elected him to draft the men. When the messenger came and made the announcement, he exclaimed: "Why did they send for me? I do not wish to go." The messenger said: "We want the most honest man in town, and you are the one and cannot be excused." He accordingly went. He was Assessor (the only one in town), in 1876; juror of the Superior Court, 1871; Chairman of the Board of Relief for three years, Justice of the Peace, School Committee, etc. In his public life he gave general satisfaction and never bought a vote. But he cared little for office, and preferred the quiet of his own home. He was a man of unusually good health and could not remember being confined to his house for one day on account of sickness. December 16, 1878, he rose in his usual good health, and his hired man having gone to Norwich, he went to the barn to take care of his stock. While walking overhead he made a misstep, fell from the loft, and was instantly killed, his neck being broken. His funeral was largely attended and his death deeply mourned.

Mr. George W. Browning was born at Tower Hill, R. I., and at a very early age moved to Boston Neck, on what is known as the Gardiner Place, where he lived with his parents till the fall of 1843. Then he went on a trip to Iowa, settled and married there. For about five years he followed farming in Lee County, Iowa. In 1848 he moved to Charleston, Iowa, and went into mercantile business there and so continued until the spring of 1850, when he took the "gold fever" and fitting up a six-horse team in April, 1850, started across the plains for the new Eldorado. After many trials, hardships and dangers, on Aug. 4, 1850, he arrived at what was then called Harrytown, now known as Placerville. Here he engaged in mining and store-keeping until June 1, 1851, when he bought a farm or ranch on the Sacramento River. He remained here until the fall of 1852, when he returned home to Charleston, Iowa, and went into mercantile business there. This he continued till 1869, adding to his business, grain and pork-packing. In 1870 he moved to Keokuk, Iowa, and continued there in the grain and pork-packing business until the fall of 1871, when he moved to Narragansett Pier, where he remained, farming and carrying on the ice business.

Mr. Browning owns the old Browning farm lying about three miles west of Perryville, R. I., and running down to the coast. This contains the site of the old Browning mansion, about one mile from the shore. About 40 years ago the old house was taken down and a tenement house built in its stead.

SAMUEL BROWNING

Son of William Browning and Rebecca Wilbur. 2

Born Feb. 9, 1688, at South Kingston, R. I.

Married, Mercy Clark, daughter of Samuel Clark, of Newport, and Miss Wilbur, a sister of Rebecca Wilbur.

They had five children, namely:

951. Samuel, Jr., b. Nov. 11, 1718.

952. Lois, b. Mar. 16, 1720.

953. Sarah, b. Sept. 11, 1722.

954. Mercy, b. Nov. 18, 1724.

955. Isaac, b. June 17, 1726.

Both Mr. Samuel Browning and his wife died after Feb. 5, 1741, but the exact date is not known.

An old Bible gives the date of Mr. Samuel Browning's birth as Nov. 9, 1688, but Mr. Austin and some near relatives say he was born Feb. 9, 1688. Some say that he resided first at Portsmouth and then at South Kingston, but late in life it is certain he lived at North Kingston. He owned a large quantity of land in S. Kingston, part of which he received from his mother and part from his wife, and part through his father's will.

In 1715 he was made the grantee of 500 acres in Kingston through the Wilburs; this is presumably a part of the great Pettaquamscutt purchase. In the year 1718 he and his wife sold to his father, William, this tract of 500 acres, and two other tracts of respectively 250 and 100 acres, for 1,600 pounds Sterling. In a deed of 1735, Mr. Browning is referred to as a resident of North Kingston. By his father's will he received 250 acres. He subsequently conveyed 320 acres with a dwelling house to his brother William, of South Kingston.

CAPT. SAMUEL BROWNING, JR.

Son of Samuel Browning and Mercy Clark. 950

Born Nov. 11, 1718, at S. Kingston, R. I.

Married Phœbe Gardner, daughter of Jeremiah and Grace Gardner.

They had seven children, namely:

956. Phœbe, b. Feb. 4, 1741.

957. Mercy, b. June 3, 1743.

A son, b. Dec. 6, 1745.

Child, b. Dec. 5, 1748.

Child, b. Dec. 19, 1751.

958. William, b. July 21, 1754.

959. Gardner, b. May 31, 1761.

Capt. Browning died Oct. 25, 1764, in his 46th year. His widow died Jan. 16, 1810, in her 88th year.

Capt. Browning was the owner of considerable real estate, and we find his name often recorded as grantor and grantee.

On April 19, 1751, we find it recorded that he gave a mortgage to the Colony for 150 pounds Sterling, on 10 acres of land.

He was a Justice of the Peace, an honored office in that day, of which one of its highest duties was the performing of the marriage contract. He was for many years a member of the town council, and was otherwise prominent in the community. His name frequently appears with the title of Captain, indicating his military service.

He was Ensign Co. 2, S. Kingston, Regt. 2, 1747; Lieut., 1749, and made Captain of his company June, 1754.

He was Justice of Peace, 1760.

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Son of Capt. Samuel Browning and Phoebe Gardner. . . . 951

Born July 21, 1754, at South Kingston, R. I.

Married, Dec. 13, 1787, Sarah Cole, daughter of Capt. John Cole and Sarah Bissell.

They had three children, namely:

967. Phoebe, b. Dec. 8, 1788.

965. William, Jr., b. Jan. 30, 1791.

966. John Arnold, b. June 12, 1795.

Mr. Browning died April 5, 1820, in his 66th year; his widow died July 15, 1838, in her 85th year.

Mr. Browning was a farmer of North Kingston, served in the militia in 1781, as ensign of Company 4. He was generally called Judge William Browning.

His wife, Sarah Cole, was a sister of Izitt Cole; she was a great-granddaughter of John Cole and Susannah Hutchinson, who were married Dec. 30, 1651. The latter had a romantic history. After the death of her father, William Hutchinson, at Aquidneck, in 1642, she and her mother, the notable Mrs. Ann Hutchinson, settled at a point a few miles distant from the site of the City of New York, perhaps at Hell Gate, where, in 1643, all the household, numbering sixteen persons, excepting Susannah, were murdered by the Indians: Susannah was taken captive and subsequently ransomed. Ann Hutchinson came to Boston from England to listen to the preaching of John Cotton; but developed religious theories of her own; for which she was persecuted and banished from Boston. On her mother's side she was a second cousin to the poet John Dryden.

GARDNER BROWNING.

Son of Capt. Samuel Browning and Phœbe Clark. 951

Born May 31, 1761, at North Kingston, R. I.

Married, May 27, 1784, Izitt Cole, daughter of Capt. John Cole and Mary Bissell.

They had nine children, namely:

- 968. Samuel, b. April 12, 1785.
- 969. Mary, b. Oct. 24, 1787.
- 970. Gardner, b. Mar. 5, 1791, died an infant.
- 971. Gardner, b. April 12, 1792.
- 972. Hannah, b. Mar. 28, 1795.
- 973. William, b. May 12, 1798.
- 974. Sarah Cole, b. Nov. 22, 1800.
- 975. Izitt Cole, b. Aug. 13, 1804.
- 976. Abigail Ann Congdon, b. Dec. 22, 1807.

Mr. Gardner Browning died July 23, 1817, in his 67th year. His widow died June 18, 1843, in her 81st year.

Mr. Browning served in the Revolutionary War when sixteen years of age. His Bible containing the record of his family and his descendants is now in the possession of his grand-daughter, Mrs. Harrison Gardner, of North Kingston, R. I. He was Ensign of the Gloucester Light Infantry, June, 1792, and in 1793 was Ensign of North Kingston Rangers.

SAMUEL BROWNING.

Son of Isaac Browning and Elizabeth Milliman. 955

Born about 1750, at North Kingston, R. I.

Married, Dec. 31, 1778, Lucy Kingsley.

They had one child, namely:

- 977. Anna, b. Sept. 15, 1782.

ISAAC BROWNING, JR.

Son of Isaac Browning and Elizabeth Milliman. . . . 955

Born about 1752, at North Kingston, R. I.

Married, first, Margaret ———; second, perhaps, Susannah Anthony, May 15, 1803.

He had three children, namely:

978. Wilbur, b. about 1799.

979. Sarah, b. about 1801.

980. Joanna, b. about 1803.

Isaac Brownell enlisted as Corporal, July 2, 1775, and served 55 days, probably under Gen. Schuyler. This is probably Isaac Browning, Jr., as the difference in spelling in those days was quite common.

962

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Son of Isaac Browning and Elizabeth Milliman. . . . 955

Born about 1754, at North Kingston, R. I.

Mr. Browning moved to Wickford, and was known as William Browning of Wickford, R. I.

963

Daughter of Isaac Browning and Elizabeth Milliman. . . . 955

Born about 1756, at North Kingston, R. I.

Married Mr. Gardner.

964

JOHN BROWNING.

Son of Isaac Browning and Elizabeth Milliman. . . . 955

Born June 22, 1758, at North Kingston, R. I.

Married Susannah Sweet.

They had twelve children, namely:

981. Mary, b. Nov. 6, 1779.

982. Hannah, b. April 14, 1782.

983. Isaac, b. Mar. 6, 1786.

984. Elizabeth, b. Aug. 14, 1788.

985. Beriah G., b. Mar. 4, 1790.

986. Mary N., b. July 3, 1793.

987. Lydia W., b. Sept. 13, 1795.

988. Sarah C., b. Jan. 27, 1797.

989. Charlotte Matilda, b. Nov. 17, 1799.

990. Joseph, b. Nov., 1801.

991. John Gardner, b. Nov. 25, 1802.

992. Susan B., b. May 23, 1805.

Mr. John Browning died at Warwick, Feb. 28, 1838, in his 80th year; his widow died Sept. 1, 1849, in her 88th year.

Mr. Browning was a pensioner of the Revolutionary War, and appears from tradition to have had a local reputation for daring in his day, somewhat like that of "Old Put," of Connecticut. This story is told of his conduct at the time the British entered Newport:

Although quite young he took part in the campaign and was with the Continental troops when they retreated towards Tiverton. He undertook the task of driving a herd of cattle, belonging to the patriots, to a place of safety. His progress was slow and the troops to which he belonged were soon far ahead of him, out of sight and hearing. As the enemy approached nearer, he prepared for action. Unslinging his flint-lock and taking his position at the corner of a wall, he fired upon the foe, although the latter outnumbered him fifty to one. The gun burst, however, and far from harming the enemy, knocked its owner senseless. The troopers, surprised by this unexpected attack, halted, examined the prostrate form, pronounced him dead, and drove the cattle back to Newport. Upon recovering his senses he found no bones broken, but alas, his cattle were missing.

He continued in service during the war, and then returned to his home at Apponaug, where he lived to a good old age. But he bore the marks of the gunpowder as long as he lived, and was very proud of them.

JUDGE WILLIAM BROWNING, JR.

Son of Capt. Samuel Browning and Phœbe Gardner. . . . 958

Born Jan. 30, 1791, at South Kingston, R. I.

Married, first, July 7, 1819, Desire Watson.

second, about 1829, Maria Watson.

He had five children, two by the first and three by the second wife, namely:

993. Mary Watson, b. July 29, 1820.

994. Sarah Cole, b. Oct. 11, 1822.

995. John Watson, b. Sept. 28, 1831.

996. Hannah Watson, b. Mar. 8, 1833.

997. Desire Watson, b. Nov. 28, 1839.

Judge William Browning died Jan. 8, 1856, in his 66th year.

His widow, Desire, died Sept. 28, 1826, in her 30th year; and Maria, his second wife, died May 21, 1862, in her 63d year.

Mr. Browning was a resident of North Kingston, and a Judge of the Supreme Court of Rhode Island from 1838 to 1843. Previously he represented his town in the General Assembly, and for two years was State Senator. He enjoyed the confidence of all parties. The Browning meeting-house was erected on Judge Browning's land in 1844, with money collected by subscription, excepting $150 advanced by Judge Browning. This was not repaid and the church building was never deeded to the society. In 1869, the heirs sold the farm, including the church edifice, to Daniel Rodman. Later the Union Baptist Society was formed and leased the building of its owner.

JOHN ARNOLD BROWNING.

Son of Capt. Samuel Browning, Jr., and Phœbe Gardner. . 958

James Browning, of Rutland, Mass., Line.

1075

JAMES BROWNING.

We now come to a new line of descent in the Browning family, entirely distinct and separate from the Nathaniel Browning line.

The first of this new line was James Browning, who was born in Scotland, then moved into Ireland, and finally came to America about 1714 and settled in Rutland, Mass., about 1720.

James Browning was born in Scotland, in the year 1672.

Married in 1721, Elizabeth Davis, of Scotland.

They had ten children, namely:

- 1076. William, b. Aug. 20, 1723.
- 1077. Elizabeth, b. June 5, 1725.
- 1078. James, b. May 25, 1727.
- 1079. Tristram, b. Sept. 22, 1730.
- 1080. Margaret, b. Dec. 20, 1731.
- 1081. Joseph, b. Nov. 22, 1733.
- 1082. Mary, b. June 6, 1735.
- 1083. John, b. Oct. 22, 1737.
- 1084. Samuel, b. Oct. 28, 1740.
- 1085. Martha, b. Nov. 21, 1744.

Mr. Browning died at Rutland, Mass., in 1749, in his 77th year. His widow died Mar. 12, 1791, in her 84th year.

The earliest record we have of James Browning is that he was born in the year 1672, in Scotland. Some of his descendants say that their branch of the family came originally from Barre, Eng. That may be so before they went to Scotland. He lived in Ardiston parish, Scotland, until his father's family removed to the north of Ireland to the parish of Addstraw; when he took letters from his pastor, the Rev. Mr. Holliday, of Ardiston, Scotland, to the Rev. Mr. Haviland, of the Protestant Church, Addstraw, Ireland. Addstraw is about 10 miles from Londonderry, the place where the Protestants were closely besieged by the Catholics under King James II, and during the siege were reduced to the direst extremities. The siege was raised by an English vessel under Captain Michael Browning in 1688, who is said to have lost his life in the undertaking. He was probably an ancestor of Mr. James Browning. Mr. James Browning came to America about the year 1714, and settled at Rutland, Mass.

In 1721 he married Elizabeth Davis, and on May 24, 1728, they were received into the communion of the Church in Rutland, they both having brought letters of fellowship from their former pastor in Ireland. At the first legal town-meeting ever held in Rutland, he was elected one of the Tithe-ing men, in 1722. His was one of the original 60 families who settled in Rutland, each family receiving a house lot of 30 acres. He owned Lot No. 53, and he and his sons afterward owned 800 acres in that district. A large pond, located in the present towns of Spencer and Oakum, formerly a part of Rutland, took its name from him and is still known as "Browning's Pond." At least three of his sons took an active part in the great Revolutionary struggle.

After his death, his widow, who survived him many years, married Andrew Oliphant, of Dedham, Mass., Nov. 23, 1753. She passed her last days with her daughter, Mrs. Bent. In the old burying-ground in Rutland, Mass., is a head-stone with the following inscription: "Here lyes ye body of James Browning, who received his birth and education in Scotland and spent his last days in this town. He died Feb. 3, 1749, aged 77 years." Near the same is another with this inscription; "In memory of Elizabeth Oliphant, formerly wife of James Browning, died March 12, 1791, aged 84 years." Mr. Browning was one of those who founded Barre, Mass., which is near Rutland, and was named after Barre, England. Later some families from Barre, Mass., moved into Vermont and founded the town of Barre there, near Montpelier, where at a later date, Ross C. Browning was born.

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Son of James Browning and Elizabeth Davis. . . . 1075

Born Aug. 20, 1723, at Rutland, Mass.

Married, Nov. 22, 1750, Rebecca McFarland, of Worcester, Mass.

They had eight children, namely:

1086. Joseph, b. about 1752.

1087. Samuel, b. about 1754.

1088. Mary, b. about 1756.

1089. Eunice, b. about 1758.

1090. Hannah, b. about 1760.

1091. Sophronia, b. about 1762.

1092. William, Jr., b. about 1764.

1308. Ephraim, b. about 1788, at Rutland, Mass.

Mr. Browning died Oct. 16, 1806, in his 84th year.

Mr. Browning was a farmer who lived at Rutland, Mass., and afterward settled at Dublin Corners. He owned a large farm and was well-to-do. Mr. William Browning was appointed Major of the 46th Regiment, Feb. 2, 1757, and was wounded at Ticonderoga, July 8, 1758. He was appointed Lieutenant-Colonel, Oct. 9, 1761. He was commanding officer at Niagara, Aug. 6, 1764, and with others signed a treaty made at that time between his Britannic Majesty and the Indians. He was a member of the Committee of Inspection appointed by the town in 1775 to aid in the patriotic cause. In 1777 he was selected one of the Committee at Rutland to choose 14 men to serve in the army. He fought in the Revolutionary War under the title of Lieutenant. In 1781 he was a member of the Committee to carry into effect the vote giving 90 pounds Sterling to the 14 men who had enlisted from Rutland.

Mr. Browning moved from Barre to Richmond, Vt. He had excellent school advantages and completed his education at the Liberal Institute, Lebanon, Conn. He taught school for several years in Sussex County, N. J. Afterwards he was employed by the Erie R. R. at Piermont, on the Hudson. In 1859, he became associated with Alvin J. Johnson, publisher of the "Atlas of the World," under the firm name of Johnson & Browning. Prejudice against northern publications induced the firm to open a printing establishment at Richmond, Va., and Mr. Browning moved there to take charge of it. At the breaking out of the Civil War he fled north and succeeded in getting through the lines, but was compelled to leave all his business and printing machinery at Richmond. They were a total loss to him, as he never recovered anything from them. The Confederates seized his office and used his presses for printing Confederate money. He continued in the map business during and after the war, and in 1863, he and Mr. Johnson became interested in a clothes wringer, which became a great success, and the two partners divided their interests, Johnson taking the maps, and Browning the wringer. A stock company was organized, with Mr. Browning as manager at first, and afterward he was president of the company. Mr. Browning lived a part of the time in Brooklyn and later in Llewellyn Park, Orange, N. J., where he died.

Mrs. Katharine Hamilton Browning died Oct. 17, 1906, at her residence in Llewellyn Park, Orange, N. J. 1310

WILLIAM AUGUSTUS BROWNING.

Son of Ephraim Browning and Clarinda Green. 1308

Born in 1818, at Rutland, Mass.

Married, about 1840, Nancy Lomas, of Manchester, Eng.

They had six children, namely:

William, b. about 1842, at Fishkill-on-Hudson, N. Y.; d. in infancy.

Frederick, b. about 1844, at Fishkill-on-Hudson, N. Y.; d. in infancy.

George L., b. about 1846, at Fishkill-on-Hudson, N. Y.

William A., b. about 1848, at Fishkill-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Florence B., b. about 1850, at the same place, and d. unmarried.

Mary Leigh, b. about 1853, at the same place; unmarried.

Mr. Browning died in 1854, at Fishkill-on-Hudson, aged 36 years.

Mr. Browning was a manufacturer of card clothing, at Fishkill, N. Y. This card clothing consists of leather strips covered with steel wire teeth, used for separating and combing wool, cotton and other fabrics used in manufacture. He built himself a beautiful house at Matteawan, afterward called Fishkill-on-Hudson, where all his children were born and where he resided until the time of his death. Afterwards it was sold and his family was scattered.

His son, George L. Browning, showed the proverbial fondness for soldier life, which has marked this branch of the Browning family from its ancestor, James Browning, downward. He was a member of the celebrated Seventh Regiment of New York. Afterwards he joined the regular army and fought all through the Civil War. He was in numerous battles, among which was the Battle of the Wilderness. Afterwards he went under Major Reno to relieve General Custer, and was in the battle of Little Big Horn. He was at this time Lieutenant. Having obtained a leave of absence he went abroad, was taken sick in Paris and died there in 1885, aged 41 years. He was never married.

The other son, William A. Browning, went into the banking business and was a banker in New York City for a number of years up to the time of his death in 1899, at the age of 51 years. He was never married.

Mary L. Browning is the only survivor of these six children (in 1907), and she resides in Brooklyn, N. Y., at 1228 Dean St. She is a lady of large intellectual attainments, an accomplished elocutionist, and fond of acting in private theatricals. She is unmarried.

Fannie Root Smith, b. March 26, 1859, died March 10, 1893, aged 34 years.

Died Nov. 11, 1881, aged 63 years, at Middlefield, Mass.

Mrs. Mary E. Browning Smith resided with her family at Middlefield, Mass., until the time of her death. Her husband, Milton Smith, was born Oct. 27, 1817, at Middlefield, Mass. He died Nov. 14, 1902. Mr. Justus Browning Smith married first, Ella Loveland, June 27, 1873, and second, Harriet Morse. He had no children. To him I am indebted for this record of his family. Mr. Clarence Emmons Smith married, Sept. 19, 1883, Addie Eliza Fuller, of Stockbridge, Mass. They have two children, Carl Browning Smith, b. July 20, 1884, and Earl Fuller Smith, b. Aug. 7, 1892. Mr. Wayland Francis Smith married Lillie C. Ingham, Dec. 17, 1854. They had 3 children, Dwight Ingham, Effie Luella and Ray Maurice Smith. Alice Amanda Smith married, May 30, 1882, Edwin Smith; died May 5, 1891. They had one child, Mary Browning Smith. Mary Emmons Smith married Arthur P. Combs and had two children, Louis Eugene and Winifred Emmons Combs. Fannie Root Smith married, April 23, 1884, Lyman E. Smith. They had one child, Hazel Emmons Smith.

They all resided at Mittineague, Mass., except Mr. Combs' family, who live at Springfield, Mass.

Justus Browning Smith died of apoplexy, Feb. 11, 1908, aged 63 years, at Mitteneague, Mass.

Married Silas A. Greenwood.

Thomas Browning, of Salem, Mass., Line.

1320

THOMAS BROWNING.

Born in 1588 in England.

Married.

He had five children, namely:

1321. Mary, b. Jan. 7, 1628.

1322. Eliza, b. about 1635.

1323. Sarah, b. about 1642.

1324. Meacham, b. about 1644.

1325. Deborah, b. Jan. 31, 1647.

Mr. Browning died Feb., 1671, in his 83d year, at Topsfield, Mass.

Mr. Browning came from Yarmouth, England, and settled at Salem, Mass., before the year 1637. He is mentioned as receiving three-quarters of an acre as his share in the division of the meadow lands in 1637, as he was a Freeman in that year. He was one of the earliest settlers of Salem; the first settlement there being in the year 1626. He moved from Salem to Topsfield in the year 1661, and continued to live there till his death. He left no sons, but five daughters, four of whom were married and thus changed their names, so all the Brownings of this line became extinct in the second generation.

Some say he was a brother or kinsman of Malachi Browning, of Boston.

MARY BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Browning. 1315

Born Jan. 7, 1628, at Salem, Mass.

MALACHI BROWNING.

Very little is known of this person except that he came from England to this country and probably landed at Boston. Judging from his Biblical name it may be supposed that his parents were pious people and Non-conformists.

He kept a large book store for those times, in Boston, where he resided, and where he died; although it is said he spent a part of his time at Watertown, Mass., where he left a part of his estate. He was never married, but made his home at least a part of the time with Robert Scott, in Boston, at whose house he died, Sept. 27, 1653. Some say he was a brother or kinsman of Thomas Browning, who settled at Salem.

JOSEPH BROWNING.

Very little is known about Joseph Browning except that he lived in the city of Boston and was in the book and printing business. His store and printing office was at the corner of Prison Lane. He was married, but we do not know his wife's surname. Her christian name was Mary. She died April 8, 1691. Mr. Joseph Browning died April 8, 1690, just one year before his wife. They both died at Boston.

ANN BROWNING.

Ann Browning came from Barbadoes, W. I., to Newfoundland, Canada, on the ship Martin, on April 3, 1679.

Nothing more is known of her.

HENRY BROWNING.

Mr. Henry Browning, and his wife Mary, came from England to America in the year 1639 and settled at New Haven, Conn.

They had three children, namely:

Hannah Browning, b. Jan. 5, 1640, at New Haven.

Zephaniah Browning, baptized Oct. 11, 1640.

Ebenezer Browning, baptized May 10, 1640.

In 1647 Mr. Browning sold his estate to William Judson and probably with his family returned to England, as nothing more is heard of them in this country thereafter. He was one of three persons who entered into an agreement that only church members should be free Burgesses; they only should elect magistrates and officers to regulate civil affairs.

ROBERT BROWNING.

Robert Browning was born in England and came to America when he was 18 years old and settled at Danbury, Conn.

Married, first, Catherine Williams.

second, Betsy Pardee, at Danbury, Conn., a native of Wilton.

He had five children, two by his first wife and three by his second wife, namely:

1331. Sarah E., b. about 1834.

William C., b. about 1836, died in infancy.

1332. William H., b. in 1839.

Robert, b. about 1841, died in infancy.

Mary, b. about 1843, died in infancy.

Mr. Browning died in 1846, at Danbury, Conn.

He was a baker by trade and followed his business at Danbury, Conn.

A few years after Robert came to America, he was followed by his mother and his sister Hannah. His mother died at Albany, N. Y., and soon after her death, Hannah returned to England.

Robert had a brother Edward who lived at London, England. He had a large family, was a practicing attorney there, and was noted and honored in his profession.

Mr. Browning's father's name was William Browning, who lived in Gloucester, England, and was born about 1742. He had three wives, names unknown, and two sons, William, Jr., and John. He lived in England a part of his life, and then returned to Hanover, Germany, and died there. His son, William Browning, lived at Gloucester, England, and was a white-smith and bell-hanger. When he was 24 years old he married Ann Powell, by whom he had three children. After the death of his first wife he married her sister. This being contrary to the laws of Old England, he came to America with his second wife and his four children. His last and fifth child was born in America. They went to live at 90 Water Street, and kept a large stove store there. Both husband and wife died in New York City, in 1805, within twenty-four hours of each other, of yellow fever. They were buried in Potter's Field, where Washington Square now is.

Daughter of William Webb Browning and Sarah Wells Smith. 1376
Born Nov. 18, 1885, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Aaron Browning, of New York, Line.

1401

JOHN BROWNING

Born about 1788 in Hanover, Germany.

Married, about 1815, Catherine Deickman, of Hanover, Germany.

They had eight children, namely:

- 1402. Aaron, b. about 1818.
- 1403. Minnie, b. 1821.
- 1404. William, b. about 1824.
- 1405. Anna, b. about 1826.
- 1406. John b. about 1828.
- 1407. Louise, b. about 1830.
- 1408. Henry, b. about 1833.
- 1409. August, b. about 1837.

This Mr. Browning's name when he lived at Hanover, Germany, was Brüning.

He carried on a fishing business between Hanover and England. At one time he went to England to live, and while there, his name was changed to the Saxon form of Browning. Afterwards he returned to Hanover and lived there until the time of his death. He was a brother of William Browning, Jr., (No. 1350), who came to New York in 1801, and he was a son of William Browning, of Hanover, Germany.

1402

AARON BROWNING.

Son of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover,
Germany. 1401

Born about 1818, at Hanover, Germany.

Married, Oct. 4, 1853, to Johanna Larbig, in New York.

They had five children, namely:

- 1410. John Aaron, b. July 26, 1854, in New York.
- 1411. Charles, b. Dec. 14, 1855.
- 1412. Frederick William, b. July 3, 1857.
- 1413. George Augustus, b. March 9, 1859.
- 1414. Catherine Louise, b. Nov. 6, 1860.

Died in 1897 or 1898, in New York City, about 80 years old.

Aaron Browning came to New York from Germany before the year 1853, probably about 1846, and went into the grocery and commission business in New York City and continued in it until his death. His wife is still living (1906) at 13 Macon Street, Brooklyn. She was born Feb. 22, 1837.

He came to America along with his three brothers William, August and John. He remained in New York City, making his home in Brooklyn; but his three brothers went to California. William and August settled and remained there, John remained a few years and then returned to Germany, but after a short stay there came back to America.

MINNIE BROWNING.

Daughter of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover, Germany. 1401

Born about 1821, at Hanover, Germany.

She was the eldest daughter, and it is probable that she lived and died at Hanover, Germany.

1404

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Son of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover, Germany. 1401

Born about 1824, in Hanover, Germany.

He came to America along with his three brothers, Aaron, August and John, and went to California, where he married and settled down. None of the relatives here can give the author any further information, except that he is supposed to have had a large family who still reside in California, but they do not know exactly where.

1405

ANNA BROWNING.

Daughter of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover, Germany. 1401

Born about 1826, at Hanover, Germany.

She married, about 1855, Mr. Kuegler, of New York City.

They had two children, namely:

A daughter, born about 1858.

A daughter, born about 1860.

Died in 1899, in New York City, in her 73d year.

Her two daughters run a large dressmaking establishment at 18 Vanness St., New York.

1406

JOHN BROWNING.

Son of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover, Germany. 1401

Born about 1828, at Hanover, Germany.

Never married.

John came to America along with his three brothers, Aaron, William and August. He went to California along with William and August.

After remaining there a few years, he went back to Hanover, Germany; in 1876, he returned to America and resided at No. 8 Fifth Street, Brooklyn; later he went to San Francisco, Cal., and resided there until his death.

LOUISE BROWNING.

Daughter of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover,
Germany. 1401

Born about 1830, in Hanover, Germany.

Very little is known of her, and she probably lived and died in Hanover, Germany.

1408

HENRY BROWNING.

Son of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover,
Germany. 1401

Born about 1833, in Hanover, Germany.

He came to America, to New York, and then started for San Francisco, Cal. On his way there he was drowned at sea.

1409

AUGUST BROWNING.

Son of John Browning and Catherine Deickman, of Hanover,
Germany. 1401

Born about 1837, in Hanover, Germany.

Married, Nov. 14, 1861, in California, a German lady from a place near his birthplace.

They had four sons and two daughters.

Died in San Francisco before the year 1905, aged about 68 years.

He came to New York in 1847, when 10 years old, and was sent to school by his two older brothers, Aaron and John. When 16 years old he went with Wm. C. Vandewater to learn the locksmith business. He was there three and one-half years, until May 20, 1856, and then started for California. He enlisted in the Union Army, Aug. 15, 1862, and resigned March 12, 1863. He was living in San Francisco in 1876, and was in the gunsmith and locksmith business, under the firm name of Browning & Heber, doing business at 631 Washington St., San Francisco, Cal.

.JOHN AARON BROWNING.

Son of Aaron Browning and Johanna Larbig. . . . 1402

Born July 26, 1854, in New York City.

Married, in 1888, to Adele Louise Faile, daughter of Edward Faile and Emma S. Green.

They had four children, namely:

Linda Faile, b. 1889.

Wilfred Faile, b. 1891.

Edna Faile, b. 1893.

Adele Faile, b. 1895.

Mr. Browning graduated from Columbia College in 1879. He resides at the "Dakota," 72d St. and Central Park West, New York City. He keeps a very excellent and celebrated school for boys. His wife's father, Edward Faile, was in the wholesale tea and coffee business. He was a man of high business standing. Mrs. Adele Faile Browning is a relative of Daisy Simmons Browning, wife of Harry K. Browning. The children are all young and reside at home with their parents (1906). They were all born in New York City.

1411

They live at St. George Hotel, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Thomas Browning, of New York, Line.

1425

THOMAS BROWNING, JR.

Thomas Browning, who came to New York City from London, England, about the year 1825, was the son of Thomas Browning, also of London, England. His mother's name is not known.

Born about 1780, in London, England.

Married Emma ———, of London, England, about 1808.

He had six children, namely:

1426. Thomas Charles, b. about 1810.

1427. Hester, b. about 1812.

1428. John George, b. about 1814.

1429. Benjamin, b. about 1816.

1430. Emma, b. about 1818.

1431. Elizabeth, b. about 1820.

Mr. Browning died in New York City.

The father of this Thomas Browning was also Thomas Browning, who was born probably about 1750, of the Gloucester branch of the Browning family, and lived in London, England. He was a manufacturer of pianos and also in the glass ware business. His descendants have a business card of his, a hundred years old, or more, which reads as follow:

T. BROWNING,
Potter and Cut Glass Manufacturer.
18 Upper George Street,
Bryanstone Square,
LONDON.

N. B. Glass made to any shape and cut to any pattern.

Goods lent on Hire.

He had one son named after himself, who is the subject of this sketch.

Thomas Browning, Jr., came to New York about 1825. He brought his wife, who was a large, fleshy woman, weighing about 250 pounds, and his six children along with him.

He had been in the piano manufacturing business in London, and when he came to this country, he started in the same business with General Hall, under the firm name of Hall & Browning. They were among the first manufacturers of pianos in this country, and are said to have been the very first who increased the strings in the piano from two to three for every note. Later the firm changed to Firth, Hall & Pond; and still later to William Pond & Co. It is now known as the Wm. Pond Music Co.

Mr. Browning is said to have been very successful in business, and to have accumulated quite a sum for those days. His factory was at the corner of 11th and Washington Streets, at the same time that the Old Prison was on the corner of 10th and Washington Streets.

THOMAS CHARLES BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Browning, Jr., and Emma ———. . . . 1425

Born about 1810, in London, England.

Married, about 1837, Sarah Birmingham, of New York City.

They had seven children, namely:

1432. Charles Wesley, b. about 1838.

1433. Emma Matilda, b. about 1840.

1434. John Jacob, b. about 1842.

1435. Thomas Pierson, b. July 1, 1844.

Susannah, b. about 1846, and died in infancy.

1436. William Turnbull, b. Oct. 18, 1847.

Elizabeth, b. about 1850, and died in infancy.

Mr. Thomas Charles Browning died about 1857, in his 47th year, in New York City. Mr. Browning was the eldest son of Mr. Thomas Browning, Jr. He was born in London, England, and came over to this country along with his parents in 1825. Like his father, he also was in the piano business, and was connected with the firm of Wm. Pond & Co. His widow died about 1893.

1427

HESTER BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Browning and Emma ———. . . . 1425

Born about 1812, in London, England.

Unmarried, and died about 1852, in her 40th year in N. Y. City.

She was born in London, Eng., and came to New York City in 1825, along with her parents. She and her sister Elizabeth started a dressmaking establishment, which they continued to the time of her death in 1852.

1428

JOHN GEORGE BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Browning, Jr., and Emma ———. . . . 1425

Born about 1814, in London, England.

Married, first, Clara ———;

second, Mrs. Clara ———.

He had one son by his first wife:

1436. John W., b. about 1846.

Mr. Browning died about 1896, in his 82d year, in New York City. He was in business with his brother Benjamin, manufacturing piano actions in Amity Street, New York. He was noted as an athlete and a man of strong physique. He was induced by his friends on one occasion to fight the renowned champion, Bill Poole. He came off victorious, much to the gratification of his friends. With this exception he was known as a quiet, retiring citizen.

1429

BENJAMIN BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Browning, Jr., and Emma ———. . . 1425

Born about 1816, in London, England.

Unmarried, and died about 1878, in his 62d year, in New York City.

He was born in London, Eng., and came over to this country in 1825, along with his parents. He was brought up in New York City, and went into business with his brother, John George, manufacturing piano actions. They had their factory in Amity Street. During the Civil War he invented and patented a wooden cartridge box, for safety and protection in carrying cartridges. This proved a success and was adopted by the U. S. Government. It brought him in a considerable revenue for a short time; but he was rather a free spender and did not save a great deal of it.

1430

EMMA BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Browning, Jr., and Emma ———. . 1425

Born about 1818, in London, England.

1431

ELIZABETH BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Browning, Jr., and Emma ———. . 1425

Born about 1820, in London, England.

Unmarried.

Died about 1885, in her 65th year, in New York City.

She was born in London, England, and came over to this country along with her parents in 1825. She, with her sister Hester, started in the dressmaking business in New York City, and they continued in it together until the death of her sister in 1852; after that she continued the business alone.

1432

CHARLES WESLEY BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Charles Browning and Sarah Birmingham. . 1426

Born about 1838, in New York City.

Married, about 1860, Louisa Winchell, of New York City.

They had no children.

Died about 1872, in his 34th year, in New York City.

Mr. Browning was a maker of piano actions in New York City. During the Civil War he organized a company of his own, in the 37th Regiment of the National Guard of the State of New York. He was made captain of this company in 1865. The Civil War ended soon after and his regiment was never sent to the front.

Mr. Browning was named after the great founder of Methodism.

1433

EMMA MATILDA BROWNING.

Daughter of Thomas Charles Browning and Sarah Birmingham. 1426

Born about 1840, in New York City.

Married, first, John Henry Young; second, Jean Maussy.

She had seven children, all by the first husband; all of whom died young except:

William Browning Young, b. about 1862.

Ida Young, b. about 1864, in New York City.

Emma Matilda Maussy died in 1902, in her 62d year, in New York City.

There were five more children beside the two named above; one of whom was born and died in New York City. The other four were all born and died in California in infancy.

John Henry Young was a caulker of vessels by trade. He moved to California and carried on his business there for a number of years. After the death of his four children, he returned to New York City and died there.

Afterwards his widow married her second husband, Jean Maussy, who was a violin player and teacher. They resided in New York till the time of her death.

Her son, William Browning Young, married Hester Rockefeller. They have one daughter, born in 1891. He is connected with the Third Avenue Elevated Railroad and resides in the Bronx.

Her daughter, Ida Young, married, first, Andrew Morris, and second, Minor McHatton, and resides in Rochester, N. Y.

JOHN JACOB BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Charles Browning and Sarah Birmingham. . . 1426

Born about 1842, in New York City.

Married Mary Noyce, of New York, about 1877.

They had one child, namely:

1438. Edith.

Died in 1903, in his 61st year, in New York City.

Mr. John J. Browning was a maker of piano actions, in New York City, and did a wholesale business in floral decorations. His twin sister died in infancy without receiving any name.

1435

THOMAS PIERSON BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Charles Browning and Sarah Birmingham. . 1426

Born July 1, 1844, in New York City.

Married, Oct. 21, 1896, Mary Fellenz, daughter of Peter Fellenz and Ursula Kuttner, of New York City.

They had no children.

Died Jan. 21, 1903, in his 61st year, in New York City.

Mr. Thomas P. Browning was for many years in the florist business in Hudson Street. He had many political friends, but never held any political office himself. After his death, his widow continued the business in Hudson Street until the spring of 1906, when she retired from business, having been left an ample fortune by her husband.

1436

WILLIAM TURNBULL BROWNING.

Son of Thomas Charles Browning and Sarah Birmingham. . 1426

Born Oct. 18, 1847, in New York City.

Married, first, Oct. 12, 1870, Clara Valentine, daughter of Parker Valentine. second, Charity Abrams, of New York City.

He had four children, namely:

1439. Lillie Florence, b. July 14, 1872.

1440. Clara, b. Sept. 26, 1875.

William, b. Sept. 6, 1877; d. Nov. 2, 1879, aged 2 yrs.

Annie, b. Jan. 14, 1880; d. April 1, 1880, aged 3 mos.

William Turnbull Browning has always had an active life, and is still a strong, muscular man, weighing 185 pounds. He went to work in a machine shop when only nine years old, and became a practical machinist. In April, 1869, he entered the fire department of the city of New York, and was made engineer of Engine No. 32, the first self-propelling fire engine owned by the city of New York. They had had one self-propelling engine in the city before this, but it was hired from Manchester, N. H., and did not belong to the city of New York. He resigned from the fire department in the year 1872, to take up the business of his uncle, Benjamin, who had recently died. Thus he found himself in the piano action business. Shortly afterwards a fire burned up his whole establishment, and as he was without any fire insurance, his business was broken up, and he went back again into the Fire Department. In 1880 he was made Assistant Foreman of Engine No. 24, in Morton Street, and shortly after made Captain. He has been present at nearly all the large conflagrations in the city of New York which occurred between the years 1880 and 1890, and for 32 years he never was absent from nor late to roll-call at 8 o'clock in the morning. In the spring of 1906, he retired on a pension, and moved with his family to East Orange, N. J.

Mr. Browning is a man of strong religious character and belongs to the Baptist Church. He formed the habit of saying his prayers at the knees of his grandmother, Emma Browning, and has always continued it throughout his life. During all his services as fireman, every night when retiring time came, he knelt to say his prayers. At first, his comrades jeered him, but when they found he continued unswervingly, and that his life conformed to the habit, those, who first ridiculed, also knelt and joined him in prayer, and those who were at first hostile, learned to respect him all the more.

JOHN W. BROWNING.

Son of John George Browning and Clara ———. . . . 1428

1484. George, b. 1833.

1485. Jane, b. 1835.

Died March 9, 1860, at Hopetown, Ont., aged 80 years.

The father of Archibald Browning, 2d, was Archibald Browning, 1st, who lived at Hurlet or Hurla, Scotland. He had two brothers, William Browning and Joseph Browning. None of these three ever came to America, but all lived and died in Scotland. William acquired a large amount of property and owned a great deal of land.

Archibald Browning, 2d, came from Scotland to Canada in the year 1821, and landed at Quebec and went from there to Hopetown, Ontario, Canada, where he pursued the occupation of farming. He had three brothers, John, Andrew and Joseph, none of whom emigrated to America.

He brought with him from Hurlet, Scotland, his second wife, Janet McCurdie, his son John, by his first wife, who was four years old, and his son Archibald, 3d, by his second wife, who was two years old, and his daughter Janet, who was about one year old. All the rest of his children were born at Hopetown, Canada. Archibald, 2d, used to tell his son, Archibald, 3d, that his ancestors in the Browning line came from Germany and went to Ireland and lived there until the persecution in Ireland made it unsafe for Protestants to dwell there. Then they went over to Scotland and lived on a farm near Hurlet, on the Paisley road from Glasgow to Paisley.

After the death of Mr. Archibald Browning, 2d, his widow went to live with her son Alexander, who lives a few miles from Lavant, Canada. All of the ten children are now alive (1890), and reside within a radius of a 100 miles from Lavant, Canada.

Robert Browning, the Great English Poet.

1625

ROBERT BROWNING, THE GREAT ENGLISH POET.

The greatness of this man, his world-wide renown, the immortality of his verses, naturally lead all who bear the name of Browning in the land of America, to inquire whether those on this side of the Atlantic are in anyway related to him.

It may be readily answered that none of the Brownings here are his descendants, as he had only one son, who married a New York City lady, but who lives in Venice and has no children.

As to the other question, whether we are related by our ancestry, that is a very different one, and should probably be answered in the affirmative. But to show this conclusively would be a matter that would require extensive investigation, and one which the author is not willing to take up and demonstrate. For the information of my readers, I think it proper to state some facts that are definitely known as regards the ancestry and descendants of the great poet.

As regards the ancestry of Robert Browning, I would say that it is not known back of the first part of the eighteenth century. The first one known, is Robert Browning, who was in the service of John Bankes, of Corfe Castle, Eng., and who died in 1746. His oldest son, Thomas, was the great-grandfather of the poet, and owned and kept Woodgates Inn, Pentridge Parish, in Dorset, Eng.

The son of this Thomas was Robert Browning, the grandfather of the poet, who was born in 1749. He was a clerk in the Bank of England, and rose to a position of importance and responsibility there. He was married, in 1778, to Margaret Tittle, a West India heiress. After her death he married a second time. By his first wife he had two children, and by his second wife he had a large family. Robert Browning, and a daughter who never married, were the children by the first wife. He died at Islington, Dec. 11, 1833.

The second Robert Browning, the father of the poet, was born in 1781. He wanted a university education, but his stepmother disapproved of it and insisted that he should go to St. Kitts, West Indies, to take charge of family possessions there. He went, but incurred such fierce resentment because he taught a colored boy to read, that he determined to abandon and give up his possessions there and return to England. His parents were very much dissatisfied at this action, and his father was so enraged that he threw him out of doors, disinherited him, and sent him a bill for the expenses of his education. At the age of 22 he obtained a clerkship in the Bank of England, which grew to a position of importance. In 1811, he married Sarah Anna Wiedemann, daughter of Wm. Wiedemann, a ship owner at Dundee. His father was still angry with him, as is shown by the fact that when he heard of his son's engagement, he sent word to the lady's uncle that his son was unworthy of the alliance and fit only to be hanged. The young lady, however, was not dissuaded by this unfair abuse. In 1811 they settled at Camberwell, where Robert, the poet, was born, May 7, 1812; his sister, Sarah Anna, was born in 1814; she was afterwards called Sarianna.

Mr. Browning, the father of the poet, was a man of refinement and great learning. He wrote excellent verses in the 18th century manner, was a dexterous draughtsman, and collected prints and curious books, and was possessed of ample means to foster his tastes. He took great pains in teaching his son by object teaching as well as from books; and when his son was only five years old, illustrated to him the taking of Troy,—piling up the chairs and tables to represent the city, and used the cat for Helen, and the dogs to represent the Greeks. He urged his son to read Pope's translation of Homer. The mother of the poet, Sarah Anna Wiedemann Browning, was of a nature finely and delicately strung, fond of music, and gentle and energetic in her ways. She gave to the poet a "strong religious habit and a great belief in manners." She and her husband were Dissenters, and both were teachers in the Sunday School at York St., Walworth, where now stands the Robert Browning Hall. Mr. Browning lived until his 85th year, vigorous to the end and in full possession of his mental powers. He died in the year 1866.

The poet, Robert Browning, was born May 7, 1812, at Camberwell, Eng. He was a handsome, vigorous, fearless child, of restless activity and fiery temper. When two years and three months old, he painted with lead pencil and black currant juice, a landscape which was considered by critics a masterpiece. In his boyhood, he evinced a great fondness for animals, and collected quite a menagerie, containing owls, monkeys, magpies, hedgehogs, an eagle, and some snakes, which afforded him great amusement as his daily playmates. His father gave him a liberal education, which he improved with avidity and labored most strenuously in his studies. He made rapid progress in both the modern sciences and in Greek, Latin, and other languages, and became one of the most learned men in England in general encyclopedic knowledge. He has left it recorded as his belief that the Browning, or Brüning, family came from one of the German tribes, known as the De Brüni, who occupied the lowlands around the Baltic Sea, and who invaded Brittany along with other Germanic tribes in the fifth century. They drove back the ancient Britons and took possession of their lands, and gradually spread over England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales.

Mr. Browning, when young, was rather foppish in his dress, and wore his black hair long, after the conventional style of the poet, and never appeared in the streets without wearing light canary-colored kid gloves. His dress was stylish and in the extreme of fashion, but as he advanced in years and in judgment all his foppishness disappeared and he became unobtrusive in manners and dress.

In 1846, Robert Browning married Elizabeth Barrett, a well known poetess, of great renown, even at that time. Her health was very poor and her father was much opposed to her marrying anyone. But her love for Robert Browning was so great that she eloped with him, unbeknown to her father and without his consent. At this time she was thirty-seven years old. They went to Florence, Italy, where her health was much improved. In 1849 their only son, Robert Barrett Browning, was born. Elizabeth Barrett Browning died in 1861, when her son was twelve years old, at Florence, where she was buried. After his wife's death, Mr. Browning went to London, where he remained until 1878, when he returned to Italy, but would not go to Florence, as it was too mournful for him. He purchased the Rezzonico Palace, on the Grand Canal at Venice, where he resided with his son and his sister Sarianna, until his death on Dec. 12, 1889. His remains were taken to London and buried in Westminster Abbey, in the Poet's Corner, where a white marble slab, with the simple inscription, "Browning," upon it, marks his last resting place.

So many biographies have been written about the poet and so much has been said about his works, that it would be out of place to enumerate them here. The reader is referred to the numerous biographies themselves.

ROBERT BARRETT BROWNING.

Son of the poet, Robert Browning, and Elizabeth Barrett. . 1625
Born in 1849, at Florence, Italy.

Robert Barrett Browning, born three years after his parents' marriage, was their idol. His mother called him "Pinino," which is the soft Italian for "Little Darling." When he was five years old he wrote some verses, which gave promise for the future. His mother lived until he was twelve years old, and upon her death consigned him to the care of his aunt, Sarianna Browning, with the injunction, "Always to be a friend to my Pinino"; and this promise she faithfully carried out. After his mother's death Pen Browning was sent to England to Christ College. But his deep love for art caused his father to send him to Antwerp and Paris to study drawing and sculpture. He settled down in Paris with his father and his aunt for a while, and then his father purchased the old Rezzonico Palace on the Grand Canal in Venice. This house was built in the seventeenth century for the family of Pope Clement XIII.

In the year 1885, Pen Browning met Fanny Coddington, of New York City, while she was traveling abroad. She was young, pretty, a blond, and very rich. Her father lived at 41 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Young Mr. Browning, who was then thirty-six years old, admired her, and in 1887 he married and took her to his father's house in Venice to live. They lived there very happily together for several years. Mr. Browning pursued his vocation as an artist, and was fond of painting beautiful women. Among his models was one known as Ginevra, and Mrs. Browning, becoming jealous of her, left her husband and returned to New York. Here she was very unhappy, lost interest in society, and spent her time in connection with the mission work of Grace Church in visiting the poor and suffering, especially the Italians of the East side. Meanwhile Mr. Browning entertained the tenderest regard for his wife and did all he could to reconcile her. In 1898, Ginevra married an Italian, and in 1900 she died. After this event, Mr. Browning succeeded in reconciling his wife and she returned to his home and they live happily together there now. The aunt, Sarianna, died in 1903, always faithful to her trust, and beloved by her friends.

SOUTHERN BROWNINGS, OR THOSE WHOSE ANCESTORS SETTLED IN VIRGINIA.

SOUTHERN LINE.

INTRODUCTION.

We have now come to another branch of the Browning family, namely, those who came over from England to America and settled in the Virginia Colony. These Brownings are all related, on the other side of the water, to the foregoing Brownings, who settled in the Massachusetts Colony and in the states of New York and New Jersey. They were all more or less distantly related to each other in the British Isles, except the families of William Browning and Aaron Browning, who settled in New York City, but originally came from Germany, and who, while they stopped awhile in England, remained there only a few years before coming to America. The New England Brownings scattered through the northern, middle and western states, and later on through some of the southern states. The southern Brownings, on the other hand, migrated westerly and southerly through the southern states and then northerly through the northern middle and western states. It is a little remarkable that although the northern branch often intermarried between themselves, and the southern branch often intermarried between themselves, still the two branches very seldom if ever intermarried, although brought in close propinquity in the northern, middle, and western states.

This branch of the Browning family were also Puritans and were driven from Great Britain by persecution, and came to the New World to enjoy religious liberty and the freedom to be found here.

All the records which would naturally give us information about the southern branch of the Browning family, except the land records at Richmond, were burned during the Civil War, and absolutely nothing has been found in reference to James City Parish. I have been at great labor in gathering information from the books in our various libraries, and by extensive correspondence to collect the information contained in the following pages.

HUMPHREY BROWNING.

This name is found quite frequently in the Court Record Books about the year 1680. He resided then at Elizabeth City, Hampton Parish, Virginia, and the Court records of this parish are still to be found in the State Library at Richmond, Va. These records are of petty law suits and are of no special value. He was born about the year 1640. He is mentioned as having sold lands in order to obtain means for transportation expenses in locating his four sons in the colony. This seems to argue that both he and his children were born in England. Nothing else is known of them.

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Born in England about 1586. He came to America in the vessel "Bona Nova," in the year 1619, and landed on the "College Lands" in Virginia, near the mouth of the James River, in what was afterwards Jamestown, York Co., Va. He is supposed to have been a brother of Capt. John Browning, who came over in 1622, and of Joseph Browning, who came over in 1635. We have no continuous record of the inhabitants of York Co., Va., giving an account of the birth, marriage and death of its inhabitants, as that registry is supposed to have been destroyed and lost in the rebellion of 1676, when Jamestown was burned. He is mentioned as one of the principal men of the colony in the year 1623. He is mentioned in a patent issued in James City Co., Va., April 10, 1646, to 650 acres of land.

1651

CAPT. JOHN BROWNING.

Born in England about 1588. He came to America in the "Abigail," in 1622, having sailed from Gravesend, England, and landed on College Lands, and settled in Elizabeth City, Va. He is supposed to have been the brother of William Browning (No. 1650). He was married in England about 1614, and had a number of children, among whom were William Browning and George Browning. William Browning was born in England about 1615, and George Browning was born in England about 1614. This John Browning was generally known as Capt. John. He served as a Burgess in Elizabeth City in 1629, and in the same year he purchased 250 acres of land. He is mentioned in a deed recorded in 1646 to his son, William Browning. He is also mentioned as a Burgess of Morris Bay in 1632, and a Burgess of Elizabeth City in 1635. In 1638 he purchased, for 3,000 pounds of tobacco, all lands lying in Mounds Bay and belonging to Thomas Grindon.

Among his children were:

1654. George, b. about 1614.

1653. William, b. about 1615.

This Capt. John Browning was the founder of one of the oldest and first families of Virginia. The plantation on which he lived is from three to four miles from Williamsburg, which latter place is about five miles from Jamestown.

1652

JOSEPH BROWNING.

Born in England in 1615.

Embarked from London on May 25, 1635, for St. Christopher, West Indies, but returned to London shortly afterwards, and embarked again from London on August 21, 1635, in the vessel "Thomas," and came to Virginia, and settled at Jamestown. At that time he was twenty years old. He is supposed to have been a brother of William Browning (No. 1650), and of John Browning (No. 1651).

1653

WILLIAM BROWNING.

Son of Capt. John Browning. 1651

Born about 1615, in England.

He came over with his father in 1622 and settled at Jamestown, Va.

He married, in Jamestown, but we do not know whom, probably about 1645.

He had at least one son, namely:

1655. John, b. about 1646.

William Browning is mentioned as having received from his father, Capt. John Browning, 250 acres of land, deed recorded in 1646. He purchased from the Crown (George the Second), 400 acres in Amelia County, on the upper side of Buffalo River.

1654

GEORGE BROWNING.

Son of Capt. John Browning. 1651

Born probably about 1614, in London, England.

He came to America along with his father in 1622, and settled at Jamestown, Va. He entered "Head Rights," in Cokes Co., Va., in 1634, and was granted 400 acres in the Half-way Swamp, Va., in 1663. He died about 1679, aged about 64 years.

1655

JOHN BROWNING.

Son of William Browning. 1653

Born about 1646, at Jamestown, Va.

He married about 1665 or 1675, at Jamestown, Va., and had at least one son, who was named after his father, namely:

1656. John, Jr., b. about 1666 or 1676.

He is mentioned, Oct. 6, 1682, as connected with the Somers Island Co. and as having signed a petition to the Governor of the Somers Islands.

1656

JOHN BROWNING, JR.

Son of John Browning. 1655

Born about 1666 or 1676, at Jamestown, Va.

He was married about 1699, at Jamestown, Va.

He had seven sons at least, and may have had other children, namely:

1657. Francis, Sr., b. about 1700.

1658. John, 3d, b. about 1702.

1659. Edmund, b. about 1704.

1660. James, b. about 1706.

Thomas, b. about 1708.

1674. William, b. about 1710.

Nicholas, b. about 1712.

1657

FRANCIS BROWNING, SR.

Son of John Browning, Jr. 1656

Born about 1700, in Caroline Co., Va.

Married Elizabeth Lloyd, of Maryland, about 1723.

They had nine children, namely:

1661. Francis, Jr., b. about 1724.

1662. Nicholas, b. about 1726.

1663. John, b. in 1728.

1664. Jacob, b. about 1730.

1665. Edmund, b. about 1732.

1666. Caleb, b. about 1734.

1667. Ruth, b. about 1736.

1668. Mary, b. about 1738.

A daughter, b. about 1740.

Mr. Francis Browning, Sr., died about 1775, in Culpepper Co., aged about 75 years.

We find it recorded in Spottsylvania Co., Va., that Mr. Francis Browning, Sr., deeded 250 acres in 1724. On June 19, 1735, a patent for 40 acres of land in St. Mark's Parish, in the County of Orange, Dominion of Virginia, was granted by George the Second, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, in consideration of forty shillings, to Francis Browning and John Ashley, on the nineteenth day of June, one thousand seven hundred and thirty-five. The conditions on which this tract was granted are as follows: "Yielding and Paying unto us, our heirs and successors, for every fifty acres of land and so proportionable for a lesser or greater quantity than fifty acres, the fee rent of one shilling yearly, to be paid upon the feast of St. Michael, the Archangel, and also cultivating and improving three acres part of every fifty of the tract above mentioned within three years after date of these patents."

A part of Old Orange County became in 1749, Culpepper County, and in 1833, a part of Culpepper County became Rappahannock County, Va. The lands patented as above stated, afterwards were known as the Browning district. They were located on the headwaters of Battle Run, and on the north side of Gourdvine Creek, branches of the Rappahannock River. Some say Mr. Francis Browning, Sr., was born in the year 1686, and that his father was married in 1665 instead of 1675.

Mr. Francis Browning, Sr., deeded land in 1740 to his son, Francis, Jr., and in 1741 to his brother John; in 1748 to his sons, Francis, Jr., and Nicholas, and to his daughters, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Duncan. In 1747, he was granted two tracts, of 100 acres and of 430 acres, respectively, in the North Little Fork; and in 1753 he bought 100 acres on the Middle Run, Culpepper Co., Va.

JOHN BROWNING, 3D.

Son of John Browning, Jr. 1656

Born about 1702, in Virginia.

Married.

He had three sons, namely:

1671. John, 4th, b. about 1736.

1669. Joshua, b. about 1738.

1670. James, b. about 1744.

He died after 1778, being 76 years old at that time.

His brother, Francis Browning, Sr., deeded to him, in 1741, a part of the land which he had patented in 1735. On May 1, 1750, he was granted, with his brother James, by a patent from Lord Fairfax, 207 acres lying in the Little Fork of Rappahannock River, on Hickman Mountain, Culpepper County. This was a portion of the land granted to Francis Browning, Sr., in 1747. His brother, Edmund Browning, acted as his attorney. In 1750, he was deeded by Francis Browning, Jr., 90 acres on the headwaters of Battle Run, Culpepper County, Va. In 1755, he is named among the foot soldiers who were paid for services on the Virginia frontier. On Dec. 30, 1760, he was a subscribing witness to the will of Francis Browning, Jr. In 1770, he gave power of attorney to his brother

Edmund to sell and convey his Culpepper County land, particularly that at the foot of Hickman Mountain; this document was witnessed by John and Caleb Browning, sons of Francis Browning, Sr. In 1774, he purchased 500 acres in Culpepper Co. In 1778, Edmund Browning, as his attorney, sold to James Browning, Jr., 207 acres on top of Hickman Mountain.

EDMUND BROWNING.

Son of John Browning, Jr. 1656

Born about 1704, in Caroline Co., Va.

Married Mary ———.

They had at least one son, namely:

1672. Robert, b. about 1745.

Died about 1780, being about 76 years old.

Mr. Edmund Browning was an attorney by profession. In 1765, he was granted by Lord Fairfax the lease of 400 acres of land, adjoining the land of his brother, Francis Browning, Sr., in Culpepper Co. In 1770, he was leased 100 acres in "Fairfax's Battle Run tract, during the life of himself, his wife Mary, and his son Robert, for three pounds six yearly." Edmund covenanted to plant 100 apple trees on said land and to fence it. In the same year he was given power of attorney by his brother John to sell his Culpepper County land. In 1771, he bought from John Dixon, 170 acres of land in Little Fork, Culpepper Co., Va. In 1774, he purchased 400 acres in the Little Fork. In 1778, he sold 207 acres for his brother John.

JAMES BROWNING

Son of John Browning, Jr. 1656

Born about 1706, in Caroline Co., Va.

He was married and had at least one son, namely:

1673. James, Jr., b. about 1736.

Died about 1780, aged about 76 years.

Mr. James Browning was, by Acts of Virginia, allowed 54 shillings as pay for military services on the Virginia frontier. In 1750, he and his brother John were granted 207 acres of land in the Little Fork, Culpepper Co., Va. In 1771, he purchased some land near Hickman Mountain, Va. In 1778 he was a witness to a deed made by his son, James Browning, Jr.

Died Nov., 1859, aged 78 years.

Mr. Meshach Browning was the son of Joshua Browning, who was a Subaltern in the British army at the time of Braddock's defeat. The son was brought up as a farmer and early displayed a fondness for hunting and fishing. He became very expert with his rifle and had many encounters with bears, and other wild animals, which were numerous in the mountain forests where he resided in Great Glades, Md., between the Buffalo Run and the Youghiogheny River. He moved to this place after his marriage with his first wife, Mary McMullen, with whom he lived for forty years until the time of her death, Jan. 29, 1839, and by whom he had eleven children. He lived with his second wife, Mary Smith, eighteen years until her death Sept. 8, 1857, and he survived her only two years. He was very much broken down by the death of his first wife and said and felt that his days as a hunter and fisherman had ended. Later in life he built a grist mill on Long Run, which he operated for many years. In the war of 1812 he was urged to enlist as a soldier, but declined to go and leave his family. This, however, he afterwards regretted very keenly, and he used often to tell his descendants that they must always be ready and willing to serve their county whenever it needed them. That his failure to do so was one of his lifelong regrets. Later in life he took a hand in politics and filled several important offices. He was always noted for his honesty, integrity and promptness. But that which has given him most renown was his skill and perseverance in hunting. He had a rifle of which he was very fond.

and which in his hands is said never to have missed its mark. This rifle is now held as a treasure in the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. With it, he killed more than 2,000 deer, 400 bears, 50 panthers and catamounts, and smaller game without number. He varied his hunting tours by stopping a while to catch fish, which abounded in the waters near his home, and in this he was very expert. His friends urged him to write a book of his adventures, of which he was fond of telling. At last he reluctantly consented to do so. The result was a book entitled, "Forty-four Years in the Life of a Hunter—1795-1839." The book was published by Lippincott & Co., and the manuscript is still in the possession of his grandson, Richard Browning, who resides at Long Run, Md. At the time of his death he had 122 living male descendants.

Mary Ellen Sosman, b. June 23, 1845.

Francis Asbury Sosman, b. Aug. 20, 1847.

Died July 30, 1880, aged 70 years.

Mrs. Lucretia Browning Sosman was the second wife of George Sosman. They lived in Chillicothe, Ohio, where she died. Her son Francis Asbury Sosman married Mary R. Browning (No. 2358).

2953

ALEXANDER HANSON BROWNING.

Son of Archibald Browning and Elinor Browning. 2948

Born Nov. 5, 1813, at Clarksburg, Montgomery County, Md.

Married Harriet ———

They had five children, namely:

James.

John.

2958. Eliza Ellen.

Samuel.

Hugh.

Died about 1888, aged about 75 years.

Mr. Alexander Hanson Browning died at Bowneville, Ross County, Ohio. His sons all married. The son James had no children, the others had children, but we have no record of them.

2954

WESLEY BROWNING.

Son of Daniel Achsah Browning. 2950

Born about 1802, in Montgomery County, Md.

Married about 1830.

They had three children, namely:

Fletcher, b. about 1832.

Samuel, b. about 1834.

Jane, b. about 1836.

2955

GREENBERRY BROWNING.

Son of Daniel Achsah Browning. 2950

Born about 1804, in Montgomery County, Md.

2958

ELIZA ELLEN BROWNING.

Daughter of Alexander Hanson Browning and Harriet ———. 2953
 Born in Bowneville, Ohio.
 Married Mr. Cochrane.
 They have two children.

2959

EDWARD BROWNING.

Probably a descendant of John Browning, Jr. 1636
 Born probably about 1750.
 Married.

He had four children, namely:

2960. Elinor, b. 1780.
 Edward, Jr.
 Elizabeth.
 James.

Mr. Edward Browning is mentioned in the first census of the United States, which was in the year 1790, as living in Montgomery County, Maryland. His farm is said to have been not far from that of Jonathan Browning (No. 1686), to whom he was probably related. All his children were born in Maryland, but we have no authentic record of any of them, except of Elinor. Edward, Jr., was married, but it is not known to whom.

2960

ELINOR BROWNING.

Daughter of Edward Browning. 2959
 Born in 1780, in Montgomery County, Md.
 Married Archibald Browning (No. 2948), in 1806.
 (See Archibald Browning, No. 2948).
